Bay, Waveland spar over annexation plans

Both sides say they want to settle dispute out-of-court

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

As trial dates quickly approach, the City of Waveland has filed a motion to dismiss or sever its annexation case from the City of Bay St. Louis. The motion was filed in early October and asks the court to either sever the two cases or compel Bay St. Louis to produce requested documentation and cooperate in the discovery process. The cases are scheduled to go to court on Nov. 29.

Since the time the motion was filed,

Both Waveland Mayor Tommy Longo and Bay Mayor Eddie Favre say they would prefer to settle the dispute before going to court.

Six injured in crash

Six people were transported to Hancock Medical Center Friday afternoon after a four-car collision on Hwy. 90 at the Waveland-Kilm Cutoff Rd. intersection. Three units from AMR responded along with Waveland Fire/Rescue and Waveland P.D. Officers Develle and Coward. A police spokeswoman said Friday that none of the injuries appeared life-threatening, but said no further information would be available until later this week.

Feds say DuPont dioxin not harmful

ATSDR cautions more testing to follow soon

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Representatives from the DuPont DeLisle Plant say they are happy with the news released in a recent Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry report outlining the results of a study on dioxin releases from the plant. A press release on the report states that past and current exposure to dioxin-like compounds do not pose harmful health effects for residents near the plant. The release also states that the study determined that dioxin and dioxin like compounds in locally caught fish were at or below the national average.

The highly technical report found one potential and one completed pathway for potential dioxin exposure. Interviews

No-tag stop leads to four drug arrests

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

Two men and two women were arrested early Thursday morning and charged with the alleged possession of a controlled substance, (powder cocaine), according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

Narcotics Division Director Major Matt Karl said, "Deputy Roger Estopinal made a traffic stop for a vehicle without a tag. The vehicle's driver was driving on an expired license and arrested."

"The driver was accompanied by a

Murder suspect sues sheriff's department

Galarza says he is being wrongfully imprisoned

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

A Hancock County man accused of two counts of murder has filed a Habeas Corpus suit against Sheriff Steve Garber for wrongful imprisonment. Troy Galarza, 36, is currently being held on a $2 million bond in the Hancock County jail. He has been in custody since April 7 of this year.

Even though the Hancock County Justice court upheld the bond initially set by the sheriff's department, Galarza's attorney, Rufus Alldredge, contends that

See ArtsAlive! during Nov. Studio Tour

THE SEA COAST ECHO Mississippi's West Coast, Hancock County; The very special and large art community of Hancock County will be opening 24 of their private studio doors to the public Nov. 20 and 21. The unique opportunities that the visitor will have to view creations in process and to purchase works directly from 54 their creators, could be a once in a life time event.

The self-guided tour will originate from the Historic Landmark, Bay St. Louis L. & N. Train Depot, where artists will also be active on site and where you will receive maps and brochures on the artists and their studios, at no cost to tour. Visitors should plan to stay in one of our participating accommodations, where breakfast in-room gifts, and wine and cheese in the evening are all inclusive for an extreme off season value! Just call the Tourism Development Bureau for details @ 800-466-9048.

SAMPLING

Visit a studio that sits, up among the tree limbs, hidden in a grove of bamboo, the studio of artists Lori Gordon and David Wheeler. Experience multiple artists housed in a newly customized, lumberyard building the Lumberyard Art Center, a co-operative work space housed in a renovated lumber warehouse. The building includes nine studios, a large classroom, gallery, and reception facilities. Stop in on one of the few Mississippi Historic Landmark buildings, the Caribbean Plantation style c. 1913 elementary school building, is now the home and studio of Lee Robertson. A Creole Cottage, built in 1850 and listed on the National Historical Register, is now the sensitively restored studio and gallery of the silversmith jewelry artist Ellis Anderson. Just a few blocks from the beach in Bay St. Louis is the home of nationally known fine arts Photographer, Sandra Russell Clark and her husband, Dutch abstract artist Evert Witte. Guests will be treated to a stroll behind their house to visit Clark's charming garden studio and nestled a few steps away is the light filled studio of Witte, who is known for his large oil abstracts.

Appreciate the resourceful use of an old school building where Bay Printmaking Studio's artist/printmaker Gwen Impson works in relief, monotype, collagraph and various forms of intaglio including dry port, etching and photo intaglio. Sharing this site is Bay Clay Studio, operated by master potter Tally Johnson. This award-winning ceramist and former college professor brings a wealth of experience to his craft and this tour. But these are not the only tenants in this unique space, the unlikely other occupants of this wisely used complex are the city Police and Fire headquarters.

Guest will be treated to poetry readings by local poets, and can take advantage of the timing, for the Annual Open House and Studio Sale hosted by the Bay Artist's Co-op who share space in a 4,000 square foot triangular building near the train depot. A converted bus station painted Turquoise with a sign of a bee painting, a palm tree red is the working studio of artist Susan Crane. The Painted Palm Studio displays her work of abstract oils, with subject matter of energy, beauty and spirit of the Bayou.

These are just a few of the quality artists and their unique studios who will be on the tour. "It is phenomenal, the sheer numbers of the creative, hard working, professionally renowned artists that we have to share with the world. This studio tour will bring their existence to the forefront for all to enjoy and appreciate. What we have here is a very rare collection of creativity that needs to be acknowledged. What better way for you, the public, to vow your appreciation for the arts, than to go to the mountain!" Beth Carriere, executive director Hancock County Tourism Development Bureau.

Burglary suspect nabbed

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus
A suspect was arrested Tuesday in connection with the August burglary of a shed of a Pearlington property owner, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.
Investigator Tom Roan reported the arrest of Christopher Nicholson, 18, of Bay St. Louis in connection tion of the alleged burglary involving a 12 gauge shotgun between Aug. 12 and 14, at a Deans Street address in Pearlington.

Nicholson was lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility in lieu of a $75,000 bond. He is charged with one count of the burglary of a commercial building and one count of delivery of a stolen firearm, Roan said. The shotgun had been recovered by the Waveland Police Department on August 14.

"My investigation led to Nicholson as being a suspect. With a warrant, I had been seeking him for a couple weeks, before I made his arrest on Oct. 26," Roan added.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Did you remember to push the clock back an hour last night before retiring?

Anyway, Daylight Saving time ended at 2 a.m.

This will mean most folks will get home from work near, or after dark for several months.

We have been reading and hearing about the presidential election now for over a year.

On Tuesday it will be up to the qualified electors to elect the presidential electors, who will in turn elect our president and vice-president.

We have heard mostly about the Republican and Democratic parties, yet in Mississippi, additionally, there are candidates for the Liberal, Green, Independent, Reform and Constitutional parties.

Most of us can recall the 2000 election — because of the closeness, a winner was not selected until weeks after the voting.

On the District level there is a House of Representatives race between three candidates.

A State Supreme Court Justice for District 2 (Southern), has two candidates vying for office.

In Hancock County, election commissioners will be elected for each district, and a couple of county school board members.

Also on the ballot is Constitutional Amendment No. 1, House Concurrent Resolution 56 on marriage.

Anyway, it is very important for all qualified electors to go to the polls and cast their votes for the candidates of their choice.

Remind your neighbors and friends that they need to vote, too.

Polls are open Tuesday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Today is Halloween, a time for "youngsters" of all ages.

Thinking back about the times of my younger years, the most remembered Halloween of my youth was in 1947.

I can recall it because earlier in the day, I broke my leg.

We lived in Waveland and I was riding my bicycle on the Old Spanish Trail with a basket full of flowers taking them to the cemetery for my mother's father and mother's graves.

I ended up on the asphalt near the intersection of Webb and OST and the heavy cross bar struck my right leg. A resident delivered me to the old King's Daughters Hospital in the Bay and Dr. Smith set my leg and placed a cast on it.

So, for the celebration of Halloween, all I could do was sit on our front porch and watch my brothers, cousins and neighbors enjoy themselves.

Tonight, please remember to be careful when driving around the area, as youngsters will be out trick-or-treating.

Do not forget tonight is the Annual Cemetery Tour sponsored by the Hancock County Historical Society.

The tours begin at 5 p.m. and take place in the Cedar Rest Cemetery, South Second Street, Bay St. Louis.

Following the tour there will be refreshments and cookies at the Society's headquarters, Kate Lobrano Cottage, Cue Street, across from the Courthouse.

Good Jobs and Outstanding People

In the midst of a Presidential election it's easy to get caught up in the event, to fixate on the media coverage and the seemingly infinite analysis and forget about all the other things.

Regardless of the latest partisan rifts, elections highlight the fact that America will always endure.

Mississippi endures, too.

In fact, judging from what I saw this week while traveling around our state, I can tell you that Mississippi is not only enduring, we are prospering.

We're creating good jobs. Like any state, we've lost older jobs. Yet this is a glass not left half empty, but half full and getting fuller.

Mississippi is transforming our economy, and we're

From the Senate

By U.S. Sen. Trent Lott

not forsaking manufacturing for service industry jobs either, as some always suggest.

For instance, I was in Greenville Monday to help officially open the new Textron plant — a 350,000 square-foot facility that will manufacture automotive components.

Folks in Greenville are the first to tell you that few communities in America are hungrier for jobs than those in the Mississippi Delta region.

Indeed, the presence of Nissan's gigantic car factory in Canton was a catalyst for Textron's coming to Greenville. Yet, automotive jobs aren't the only type of manufacturing activities locating in our state and with potential to grow here.

Aerospace jobs are taking root in Mississippi. We're becoming a hub for the manufacture of unmanned or "drone" aircraft, used primarily by the defense industry.

Just this week Aurora Flight Services announced that a 300-job, $45 million plant will be constructed at Golden Triangle Airport to build the "Hunter" II unmanned drone designed for various military missions but a craft, which also has commercial applications.

factory at Jackson County's airport, an unmanned drone helicopter, a product also with military and commercial applications. These four major manufacturing facilities, landed by our state within the year — industries providing hundreds of skilled, high-paying jobs — are proof that Mississippi is moving.

In addition to creating jobs, we're creating outstanding people, too. I've met many of our young men and women today, and I truly believe we're seeing another great generation arise. I saw it yet again at Port Gibson's Chamberlain-Hunt Academy last week and at nearby Alcorn State University.

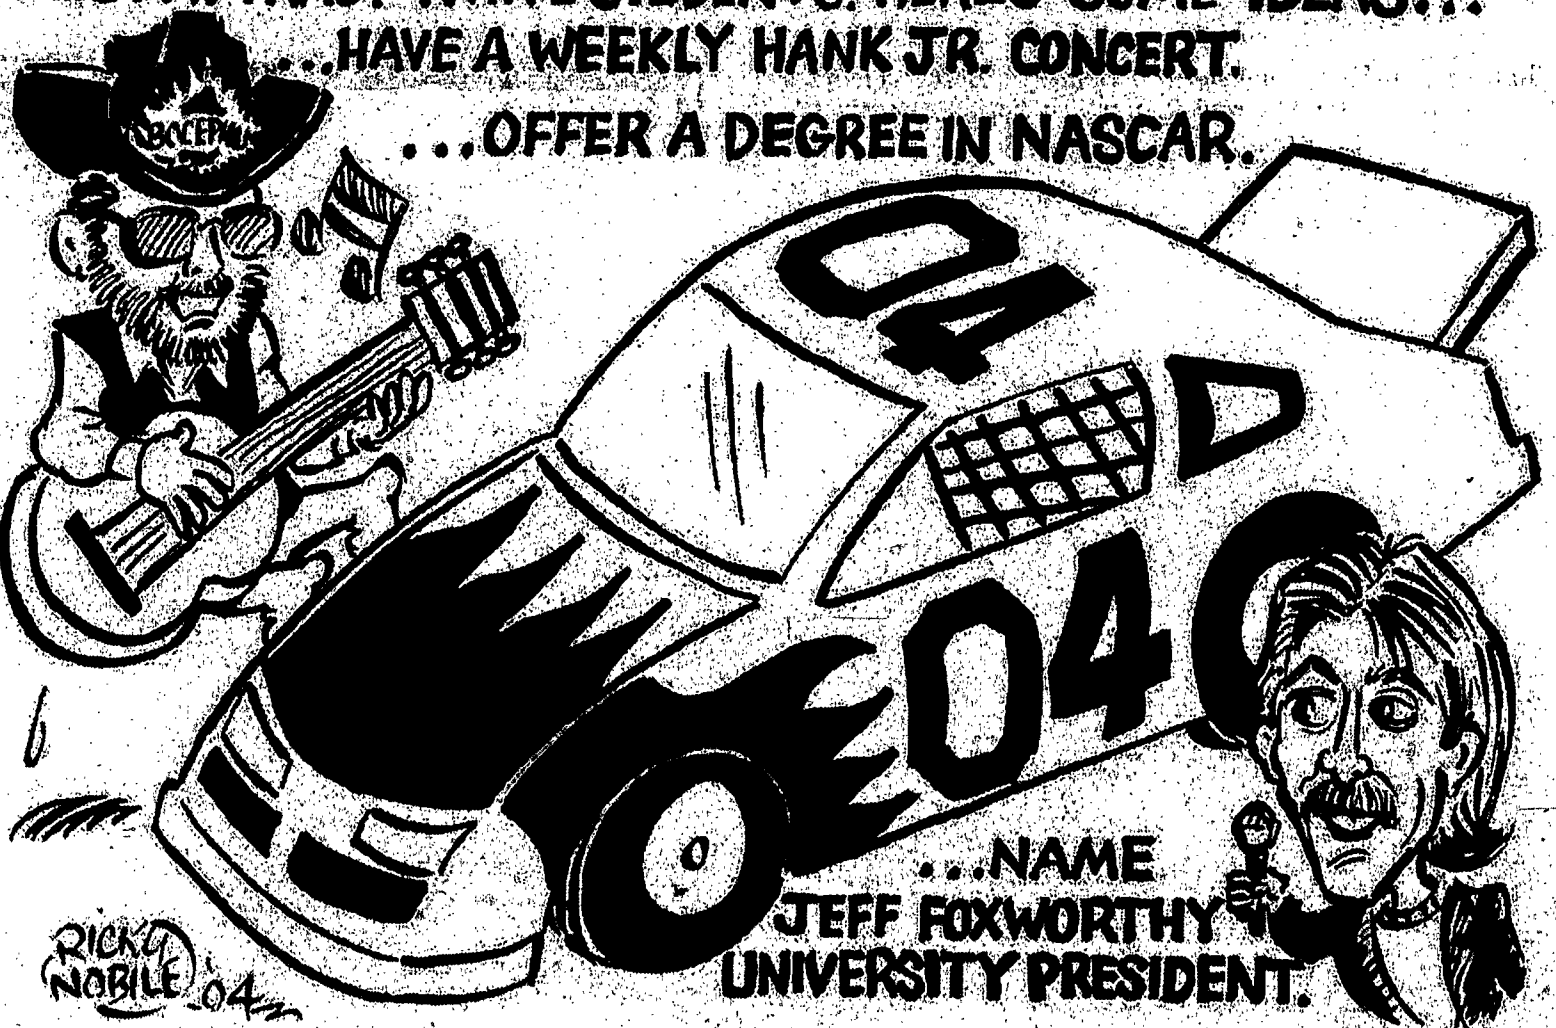

You've heard of Alcorn but maybe not Chamberlain-Hunt, but these two institutions share a common history. Both sprang from a predecessor institution called Oakland

Letters to the Editor

Please support the Arts in Hancock Co.

Letter to the Editor
On this, the last day of October, we can look back on a wide variety of activities which were held in conjunction with National Arts and Humanities Month. Music, dance performances, poetry readings, book signings, art exhibits and craft demonstrations are just a few of the many activities which took place. The venues included libraries, schools, nursing homes, studios and galleries throughout the county.

The wonderful thing is that in our community these activities are not simply held once a year but are normal, year round activities. We invite everyone to get involved and support these activities 365 days a year.

The mission of The Arts, Hancock County Mississippi is to promote, enhance and support the arts in Hancock County. Check out our web site for ongoing activities and programs. www.hancockart.com

A job well done

On October 14th around 11:00 p.m. our 22 month old son had a seizure. One can only imagine the fear we felt. This had never happened before. We immediately headed to the hospital not knowing at the time what was wrong with him. We called 911 while in route. We wanted to know if we could do something for him on the way. When we approached the highway a sheriff's department's car was there to escort us to the hospital. As we quickly drove through Waveland, each intersection was blocked by a police car to let us by safely. We are so thankful for their quick reaction. They had everyone's well being in mind. Job well done.

Forever Grateful,
Philip and Amy Seay

Diamondhead Brownies celebrate and donate to Anna Love Prayer Garden

Diamondhead Brownie Troop 194 held a bowling/pizza party recently at the Park Ten Lanes in Diamondhead. Between strikes and bites of pizza, the troop managed to conduct some important business. Troop members voted to contribute troop funds raised from their annual Girl Scout Cookie sales to the Anna Love Prayer Garden, located in Diamondhead, which is in memory of troop member Amy Love's older sister, Anna, the Hancock County Unit of the Boys & Girls Clubs of the Gulf Coast, and the Eden Alternative at Dunbar Village Retirement Community located in Bay St. Louis. The Eden Alternative's mission uses companion animals to give patients the opportunity to care for other living things and to alleviate boredom through the variety of experiences brought to each facility by the animals.

College. Alcorn is an outstanding historically African-American university of which our state is very proud.

Chamberlain-Hunt is a Presbyterian military academy which just a few years ago was on the verge of closing its doors, ending a history dating back to 1879.

On Wednesday it was my honor to help celebrate this institution's rebirth.

I joined the Academy's faculty, alumni and friends to keynote Chamberlain-Hunt's Founders' Day convocation in the old Oakland Chapel at Alcorn State - ground zero for both institutions' beginnings. Here, Alcorn students, faculty and alumni, joined those from Chamberlain-Hunt to celebrate this academy's revitalization and surge of enrollment. Today Chamberlain-Hunt has about 170 cadets, and they're some of the most impressive young people I've ever met. They're going to be impressive leaders in Mississippi's future.

From what I've seen in my travels around our state - the new jobs, the outstanding young people who will help build our new economy - I feel confident that, regardless of the passing political trends that sometimes divide us, this new Mississippi will be a much better place than ever before. As long as Mississippi continues attracting good jobs and raising outstanding people, our future will always be unlimited.

Chamber Orchestra set Nov. 7 at Diamondhead

THE SEA COAST ECHO The Diamondhead Performing Arts Society is sponsoring the Jefferson Parish Arts Society Chamber Orchestra, Nov. 7, 7 p.m.

The orchestra is a veteran of 27 years of performances. Diamondhead Performing Arts Society president Charles Garrison reports.

The Chamber Orchestra is to perform at the Diamondhead Country Club with tickets available at the door at $15 each. Comprised of some of the finest musicians from South Louisiana and Metro New Orleans, the Orchestra under the direction of its founder, Maestro Dennis G. Assaf, will present an evening of classics from Mozart to Massenet, among others.

The heavily Italian flavored program will provide an artistically satisfying and stimulating experience for listeners, Garrison said.

Originally scheduled for Nov. 7, was the Orchestra da Camera Aretusea from Sicily, which had to cancel its American tour because of cutbacks in Italy.

County Thrift Shop looking for a home

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus
The Hancock County Ministerial Alliance which oversees the Hancock County Emergency Relief Fund, Inc. is seeking a building to reopen the Hancock Thrift Shop.

The local Relief Fund is a benevolent organization that assists emergency needs of transients and Hancock County residents. Over $5,000 in assistance already has been distributed this year.

The Thrift Shop's operation helps the Ministerial Alliance in raising some of the funds it distributes.

The Ministerial Alliance was founded in 1967 by the late Rev. Charles Johnson and other ministers that were serving the county at that time. It was directed for many years by the late Mrs. Ina Piazza.

For many years the Emergency Relief was an agency of the Hancock County United Way, then the United Way of South Mississippi.

In 1999 United Way funding was discontinued with the understanding that other agencies were to be opened in the county that would duplicate the same services, according to Rev. Jeb Banashak, current president of the local Ministerial Alliance.

In the absence of an organizational director, in early 2000, when the president, Rev. Ron Skinner, resigned his church and moved away, the board agreed to temporarily suspend the Hancock County Emergency Relief services.

In 2001 when it appeared the alternative proposed agencies did not come to the county, the Ministerial Alliance reactivated and opened the Hancock Thrift Shop to channel money into the relief fund.

The shop remained open until the end of 2002, when shop's donated building was no longer available.

The Emergency Relief assistance has continued with the only source of funding coming from participating churches and individuals.

"At this time the amount of disbursements far exceed the amount of income each month. If we are not able to reopen the Thrift Shop, or find other sources of help, we will soon deplete the funds available and be forced to stop these services all together," Banashak reports.

Rev. Banashak continued, "The search is on for another building. Donated use, or very low rent is important because it is our purpose to offer help to our community."

"The Ministerial Alliance

Galarza is being illegally detained, and that "the lower court erred in not granting—a reasonable bond."

In the suit, Alldredge wrote that Galarza was "being deprived of his liberties without the due process and equal protection of the law."

Galarza stands accused of the murders of Steve Bossier, 42, and Melissa Polk, 26, both of Pearl River, LA.

Both Bossier and Polk were described as being "known friends and associates" of Galarza's by The Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

Their bodies were discovered in a shallow grave on Lower Bay Road in Clermont Harbor earlier this year. Sheriff's investigators determined that the bodies had been there for some time before discovery.

DuPont -- ATSDR

with former workers indicated that waste site 8 overflowed during heavy events taking its contents to a nearby creek that fed into the Bay of St. Louis. Dr. James Durant from the ATSDR said that although there was no definite evidence of these events, the possibility that this could indicate a completed pathway could not be ruled out and was included in the report.

The agency went to the plant one day during a heavy rain event to check the site and did not witness the overflow indicated on that day, said Durant. The agency could not ascertain if older cells leaked in the past, said the report.

Some evidence of dioxins was found in some species of local fish, but Durant said the levels were no higher and in some instances lower than the national average and pose no health threat. It would be impossible to pinpoint or rule out a source of the dioxins, he said, because dioxins come from many sources such as trash burning and power plants as well as industrial sources.

If a person were worried about his/her intake of these chemicals, it would be best to avoid the fatty parts of fish such as the skin and to limit daily intake to less than a half a pound a day. Dioxins are most soluble in fat, he said.

"While we are pleased with the fish reports that fish from the Bay might not represent a significant exposure of dioxin like compounds to the community," said Durant, given the high polychlorinated dibenzofurans (dioxins) in the landfill and air emissions from the plant, further testing in crabs is recommended.

The ATSDR is working with the DEQ to prepare for these studies, said Durant. The crab is a sentinel species, he said. The crab, unlike some other aquatic species has a difficult time metabolizing the polychlorinated dibenzofurans, Durant said.

Durant said that dioxins are primarily passed down and gain concentration through the food chain. Exposure through air sources is not likely, he said. Durant said that a person standing down wind from the plant full time would likely increase their cancer risk to one in 100,000 to one in 1,000,000 and the agency did not consider this a significant risk. Concern should lie with the food chain for dioxin exposure, he said.

A final pathway, worker exposure to the soil at the plant, was considered a completed pathway by the study. Safety, health and environmental manager at the plant Brad Martin said that workers would have to eat the soil to become contaminated and that in his opinion even walking barefoot through the contaminated soil would not be a pathway for exposure.

"A certain percentage of dirt in any setting does get on people's hands and into their mouths though the amount may be small," said Durant. "We don't think it is a problem, but we want to re-sample the top layer of soil at the site. Borings taken were taken from 2 feet deep and the ATSDR wants to make sure that samples from such a depth did not dilute the true toxicity readings, he said. The agency is recommending the re-testing of soils at the plant.

Martin said the plant is investing $20 million to switch to a more modern technology that will eliminate close to 90 percent of the dioxins from the manufacturing process. The change over should be complete in 2007, he said.

Durant said the agency will be glad to look at any data that may not have been seen for the study.

"We have and will recalculate our findings if new evidence is provided that may change study outcomes," said Durant.

The ATSDR will conduct a public availability session on November 17 at the DeLisle Elementary School for those seeking clarification about the information in the study or other issues. Representatives from the ATSDR and other agencies will be available for questions. A public comment period on the study will be open until December 6, or later if requested. A copy of the study is available for public view until December 30 at the Pass Christian Library. Comments should be sent to: Chief, Records Management, Activity, ATSDR, 1600 Clifton Rd., N.E. (MS E-60), Atlanta, GA 30333. The ATSDR is also conducting a study on all sources of air emissions at the plant.

female, who was taken to county motel's room following the driver being booked at the jail.

Deputies noticed a white powder substance on a table when she opened the door of the motel room occupied by another male and female," Karl stated.

Karl continued, "Deputies checked the powder and it checked positive as cocaine. Myself and case Agent Clifton (Bubba) Malley were called to the scene."

"There was also a small amount of cocaine on the motel room's floor. Arrested were:

-- Tiffany Alphonso, 22, of Lakeshore, possession of a controlled substance. Her bond was set at $10,000, but is being held without bond because of a previous narcotics charge.

-- Curtis Barthe, 31, of New Orleans, LA, possession of a controlled substance, bond set at $5,000.

-- Ruth Dulworth, 19, of Waveland, possession of a controlled substance, with a bond set at $10,000.

-- Charged at the jail, as he was arrested earlier for traffic violations, was the vehicle's driver, Ronald Thomas, 27, of Waveland, possession of a controlled substance in addition to driving a vehicle without a tag, driving on a suspended driver's license and no proof of insurance. Thomas' bond totaled $11,600," according to Karl.

In addition to Deputy Estopinal, Sgt. Push Phillips and Deputy Tim Campbell also assisted in the arrests.

realizes the importance of the services provided to transients and Hancock County residents and are very much interested in continuing their operation," Banashak added.

"There are several buildings vacant, just sitting idle, or possible a city or county building. There are people of need in our county every day. The Ministerial Alliance's goal is to help as many as we can during their time of need," Banashak added.

Tigers headed to playoffs despite 34-0 shutout

BY MAURICE SINGLETON
Contributing Writer

The Bay High Tigers dropped a 34-0 shutout loss to the Vancleave Bulldogs at home on Friday night, but learned that they had earned a playoff spot next Friday night on the road at George County.

"We are excited about making the playoffs," said Tigers coach Brennan Compretta. "That was one of our goals when we started the season. I am excited for these young men the way we started the season. Of course, we are going to have to play better and cut down on our mistakes."

The Tigers finished the regular season in a three-way fourth place tie with D'Iberville and East Central. All three finished with 2-4 district records. Bay High won the fourth place spot through a point system due in part by the margin of victory in last weekend's win (21-7) at East Central and East Central's win earlier in the season over D'Iberville. The Tigers lost to D'Iberville three weeks ago.

"The effort tonight was not the problem," Compretta added. "We made the effort. We lost to a very good football team tonight. They have a good group of linemen and some very good runningbacks. We knew what they were going to do; it was no secret."

The Bulldogs got off to a good start with a 52-yard opening kickoff by Jarrod Ely to the Tigers' 33 yardline. Johnny Peters carried three times after that, including a 19 yarder and a 3-yard carry for the touchdown with just over 10 minutes to play in the first quarter.

Trey Read's PAT kick made the score 7-0.

The Tigers failed to pick up a first down on their first possession, but the defense got even holding the visitors to inches short after the Bulldogs gambled on fourth down.

The Tigers took over with decent field position at their own 43 yardline, but again the offense could not get going. The Tigers picked up two yards with a 2-yard gain on a screen pass from Corbin Blaize to Reggie Calhoun on first down and Antonio Hawkins lost a yard on second down. Facing fourth and 9, Tony Marino got off a 33-yard punt which was fielded at the Vancleave 24 yardline. Four plays later, the Bulldogs raised their lead to 14-0 on a 59-yard Brad Madden touchdown toss and Read's PAT kick.

Lorenzo Lewis returned the ensuing kickoff 31 yards to the Tigers 36, and Bay High appeared to pick up a spark.

Blaize connected with Calhoun on second down for a 24-yard gain to the Vancleave 45. Blaize was sacked two plays later for an 8-yard loss. Facing a third and 13, Blaize connected with Destin Thomas for a 12-yard gain, setting up a fourth and one. But the Bulldogs defense stiffened, stopping Hawkins short of the yard the Tigers needed for a first down.

Lorenzo Lewis made the defensive play of the game when he caught a Vancleave receiver from behind on what appeared to be a 62-yard touchdown pass play by stripping the receiver of the ball near the goal line. Both teams scrambled for the fumbled ball, but no one gained before it rolled through the end zone. The play gave the Tigers a first down at their own 20 yardline.

Again, the Tigers appeared to rally to get back into the game as Blaize completed 5 consecutive passes, including two completions to Lewis of 11 and 7 yards, a 22-yard diving catch by Brad Ladner and a 16-yarder to Calhoun. Facing fourth and inches, a pitch from Blaize to Hawkins failed and was recovered by Vancleave at the Bulldogs 41. The Tigers again did their job, allowing the visitors a single first down on the subsequent possession. Trevor Adam keyed the Tigers defense with a solo tackle of Matt Sloan two yards behind the line of scrimmage. Read's 38-yard field goal attempt went wide left, and the Tigers had a first down at their own 20 with just over three minutes to play in the half.

The Tigers gained nine yards on the first two plays with a 1-yard Blaize keeper and an 8-yard completion from Blaize to Ladner. But things went sour fast after that. Carl White got between a pass from Blaize and a Tigers receiver and returned it 36 yards for insurance and the Bulldogs led 21-0 after Read's PAT kick with 1:05 remaining on the first half clock.

On the very next play from scrimmage, Blaize was intercepted again, this time by Raagan Williams who went down at the Bay High 36 yardline. Read kicked a 42-yard field goal as the first half ended and the Tigers were down 24-0.

Tyler Brush opened for the Tigers at quarterback in the second half, but the Tigers' offense continued to putter as they failed to pick up a first down to open the second half. The Vancleave offense had no problem traversing the short field starting at the Tigers' 40. Peterson added a 12-yard run and a personal foul penalty gave the Bulldogs 15 more yards, and the game was out of reach of the Tigers as Sloan shut the Tigers den with 3-yard run for the score. The Tigers trailed 31-0 following Read's PAT kick.

Read added a 37-yard field goal to close out the game's scoring with 10:49 remaining on the game clock.

Third-ranked Wildcats blank Hancock High Hawks 41-0

BY DWAYNE BREMER
Contributing Writer

The Meridian Wildcats showed why they were the state's third-ranked team Friday night as they blanked the Hancock Hawks 41-0. The Wildcats (8-0) were led by a balanced offensive attack and a stingy defense that only yielded 29 yards of total offense to the Hawks.

"This was a very good football team that we played tonight. It's going to be tough for anyone to beat them," said Hawks head coach Walt Esslinger.

The Wildcats were led by quarterback Justin Baylor who completed nine of 14 passes for 190 yards, and Baylor ran for two scores as well.

The game started when Ryan Baker returned the opening kickoff 15 yards to the 25 for the Hawks. The Hawks would pick up two first downs behind an eight-yard run from Mark Fairley and a seven-yard run from Andrew Smith.

After the initial surge for the Hawks, the Wildcats defense stiffened and forced the Hawks to punt.

The Wildcats took over at the 40 and quickly opened the scoring. Baylor hit J.B. Byrd with a 30-yard strike, and on the next play Baylor kept the ball around left side and took it all the way for a 29-yard touchdown. Phillip Sullivan added the point after, and the Wildcats led 7-0 with 5:55 to play in the first.

The Wildcats struck again on the next play after the kickoff. The Hawks took over at the 15. Fairley fumbled and the ball was picked up by Torey Adams who returned the ball 16-yards for a Wildcat touchdown. The point-after made the score 14-0, at the 5:34 mark.

After forcing the Hawks to punt the Wildcats scored again when Baylor connected with Thomas McCoy for a 39-yard touchdown pass. The point-after gave the Wildcats a 21-0 lead at the 2:50 mark of the first quarter.

The Wildcats added another score in the second quarter when put together a seven-play drive for 65-yards. Baylor ran in the touchdown from seven yards, and with 8:55 to play in the half, the Wildcats were dominating the Hawks 28-0.

The Wildcats kept the pressure up to start the third quarter as Derrick Davis rumbled up the middle for a 69-yard touchdown run, the point-after was no good and the score was now 34-0 with 10:00 minutes to play in the third quarter.

The Wildcats rounded out the scoring with a ten-play drive covering 55-yards. Nate Cole ended the drive with a 2-yard touchdown run, and the point after made the score 41-0 with 9:42 to play in the game.

The Hawks got the ball back at the 40, after a 15-yard kickoff return from Alex Toups. The Hawks then moved the ball a little bit as Andrew Smith had a nice 14-yard run, and Braxton Necaise scramble for ten yards and a first down.

The Hawks were not able to do any more as Necaise threw three incomplete passes, and the Hawks turned the ball over. The final score was 41-0.

The Hawks were led by Smith who tallied 36 yards on six carries. Mark Fairley, who has led the Hawks in rushing this year, had 16 yards total for the game.

The Hawks were led on defense by Jonathan Lacoste who had eight tackles.

The Hawks will host the Hattiesburg Tigers next week to close the season.

Pass Pirates fall 43-14 to PRC

BY STEVE SMITH
Contributing Writer

The Pass High Pirates faced a formidable Pearl River Central team Friday night at Cairnere hoping to end the season on a winning note. Playing well enough to cause the Blue Devils much concern and giving every indication that the future looks bright for Coach Causey's team.

The Pirates were ultimately undone by a five touchdown, 208-yard performance by Division IV prospect Seth Hayden, losing 43-14.

The Pirates won the toss and recorded two first downs before Brett Sanders launched a 46-yard punt with enough hang time to allow Jimmy Steube to nail the receiver in his tracks at the 15 yardline.

Hayden's first touchdown was called back because of an illegal block, but the ball was spotted at the Pirate 37 yardline after the penalty. Two plays later Hayden was in the end zone again after a 10-yard run. A two-point conversion put the Blue Devils up 8-0.

The Pirates fought back with a balanced attack reaching the Blue Devil 45 yardline with a first down after Chad Moore ran for 9 and 5 yards on consecutive plays. Jaren Bowser then blasted the PRC line for five and the frustrated Blue Devils were flagged for a personal foul, putting the Pirates at the 24 yardline. Moore passed to Aaron Sauter for 23 yards and a first and goal at the one yardline. Jaren Bowser scored from there and the two point try was no good, making the score 8-0.

A successful inside kick by the Pirates gave them possession at the Blue Devil 49 yardline, but Pearl River's defense pushed the Pirates back to the 26 yardline and forced a punt. The Pirates got the ball right back, however, as Brandon Riley intercepted Adam Robin's pass. Neither team could sustain a drive on their next possession and when the Pirates got the ball back again they gave the Blue Devils a fumble and a first down at the Pirate 29 yardline.

In three plays the Blue Devils were in the end zone again with Hayden getting his second touchdown on a 15-yard run. Abraham's PAT kick was good and the Devils led 15-0.

An interception on the next Pirate offensive gave the Blue Devils another opportunity and Hayden scored from 38 yards out. The PAT kick made the score 22-0. The Pirates roared back returning the kickoff to the 40 yardline and completing a 35-yard pass to Donovan Harley and Moore running for 20 yards to the 6 yardline. Moore took it in for the touchdown and passed to Aaron Sauter for two making it close at 22-14.

That was as close as the Pirates would get as the playoff-bound Blue Devils scored 21 unanswered points in the second half and rested many of their starters. The Blue Devils will face St. Stanislaus next Friday at the Rock in the first round playoff action.

The Pirates put up some impressive numbers in the losing effort, managing 10 first downs and 183 yards from scrimmage with only four penalties for 40 yards. They lost the turnover battle, taking the ball away twice and giving up four times, with two of those turnovers leading to PRC touchdowns.

The Pirates look forward to next season with many experienced and productive underclassmen and "lose only" four starters to graduation.

The Biloxi Xpress U-12 Boys Select Soccer Team won Gold at the Gulf Coast United Fall Classic Oct. 2nd & 3rd. They beat G.C. West 5-1 in the finals. They also won the Biloxi Fall Classic Oct. 15th & 16th winning against Central Jackson 4-2. Team members are bottom left: Kollin Cannon, Pacer Friserson, Dustin Ladner, Jarod Canoy, Caleb Kergoslen, Garet Lawson. 2nd row: Terese Lawson-Team Mom, George Budz, Jacob Killian, Shawn Levesque, Kabe Sears, Daniel Burton, Anthony Sauter, David Bertucci. Back row: Coaches Joe Lawson and Luke Hamilton.

Recreational red snapper season closes November 1

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources has ordered the closing of the recreational red snapper (Lutjanus campechanus) season in Mississippi territorial waters at 12:01 a.m.,

Monday, November 1, 2004. The National Marine Fisheries Service has determined the recreational quota for red snapper has been harvested. The recreational quota for red snapper is 4.47 million pounds.

The closing of the recreational red snapper fishing season is issued under the authority of Section 49-15-15 (1) of the Mississippi Code of 1972, and order of the Mississippi Commission on Marine Resources.

SSC surges to 38-7 win over Warriors

Cuevas, Cure & Duplessis set marks

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws (8-1, 6-0) preserved their unblemished division record with a 38-7 win over the visiting D'Iberville Warriors (4-5, 2-4) in between the walls' on Friday night. Despite a sluggish first half, the Rocks regrouped and put up 24 unanswered points in the second half.

SSC head coach Casey Wittmann commented, "We started a little sluggish in the first half; however, we made some adjustments at halftime and challenged the team. They came out in the second half and responded like champions do. I am extremely proud of the team and our senior leadership. Our coaching staff—Mark Logan, Stu Rayborn, Stan Dellinger, Andy Kivlan, Stace McRaney, Brian Keys, Eric Hoffer, Dave Boos, Bruce Morreale, and Mike Proulx—continues to put solid gameplans together and challenge this team."

In the game, there were several individual marks set for SSC. Junior running back rushed nine times for 109 yards and a touchdown which gives Duplessis 1,047 yards on the season. He is SSC's first 1,000-yard rusher since Kris Cannon in 2000, and has rushed for more than 100 yards in a game for seven consecutive weeks.

Lance Cuevas set a single-season passing record with his 225 yards on 10-of-25 passing. Cuevas now has 1,800 passing yards on the season which eclipsed the mark of 1,635 yards set by Jason Santiago in 2000.

With his two touchdown passes, Cuevas now sports 21 touchdowns on the season which is just three away from tying the single-season mark of 24 set by Paul Gravolet in 1968.

Mike Cure caught four passes for 59 yards in the game. Cure, already the all-time leader in receiving yards, now has 95 career receptions which vaulted him past the previous mark of 93 receptions set by Gabe Willis in 2002.

For the eighth consecutive week, the Rock defense gave up less than 100 yards rushing. The Warriors managed only 13 yards rushing on the night and 172 total yards in the game.

Wittmann continued, "I am proud of all the records that are being set. But, when you have success as a team you will have success as an individual. This team has worked hard all year long and all the records belong to the team."

The Rocks opened the game on offense. Cuevas launched an 18-yard pass to Floyd Dedeaux on the first play for a Rock first down. He followed that play with another aerial to Cure for 17 yards and a first down. However, three incomplete passes in the endzone forced the Rocks to try a field goal from 42 yards out. The kick was short and the ball went over to D'Iberville.

The Warriors didn't have much time to get in a groove as Brennan Thomas intercepted an errant Warrior pass at the D'Iberville 39 yardline on the second play from scrimmage.

Cuevas went back to the air and hooked up with Stefan Sofianos for a 39-yard scoring strike with 7:45 left to play in the first quarter. Bryce Morreale converted on the PAT and the score was 7-0.

J.C. Brignone swarmed Austin Holley for a 7-yard loss that forced the Warriors to punt on their next possession. The Rocks started their drive at the Warrior 44 yardline.

Jordan Ellis picked up 8 yards on the ground and Cuevas connected with Cure for 8 yards and a first down.

A Warrior was flagged for pass interference which gave the Rocks a first down at the D'Iberville 16 yardline. Duplessis zigged and zagged for 4 yards and Ellis added 9 more up the middle for a first down to the Warrior three yardline. Brignone was given the call at fullback and bulldozed his way for a three-yard score with 2:22 left in the opening quarter. Morreale converted on the PAT for a 14-0 lead.

Following the ensuing kickoff, Jake Olier hooked up with Cody Rooney for a 22-yard pickup and a first down into Rock territory. Minimal gains by the Warriors forced D'Iberville to attempt a 49-yard field goal. However, when the ball was snapped, Jeff Kovacevich scrambled for the fake field goal and lobbed a pass, incomplete while under pressure by Sofianos.

SSC took over at the Rock 46 yardline following a D'Iberville penalty. However, the drive stalled when John Davis intercepted a Rock pass and returned it to the Rock 36 yardline.

Three plays later, Olier connected with Rooney for a 32-yard score with 9:52 left in the first half. Kovacevich converted on the PAT cutting the lead in half to 14-7.

The two offenses stalled on their next possessions with each team ending up having to punt the ball away. The Rocks had one last shot at the endzone before halftime. Cuevas connected twice with Sofianos for gains of 9 and 12 yards. Morreale tried a 50-yard field goal that fell short as time expired with SSC nursing a 14-7 lead.

SSC came out in the second half on defense and forced the Warriors to punt on their first possession. Lee Klein, Jordan Ellis, Mike Cure and company stiffened and the Rocks took over on their own 23 yardline.

However, the Rocks were unable to get moving and gave the ball right back on three a three-and-out series.

Olier began to get Warrior offense moving on the next series with four complete passes. He hit Duvants Mallard for an 18-yard gain and then Wesley Ladner for another 8 yards. Rooney gained three yards on an aerial followed by 7 yards for Durrell Brown. However, two incomplete passes forced the Warriors to punt away.

The Rocks took over at their own 30 yardline and Cuevas went back to the airwaves. He hit Cure for a 28-yard gain and Sofianos for a 29-yard gain. Three consecutive penalties by the Warriors put the ball at the D'Iberville three yardline. Ellis bulldozed his way in for the score from three yards out with 4:16 left in the third quarter. Morreale converted on the PAT for a 21-7 lead.

After the ensuing kick, Olier connected with Ladner for a 27-yard gain just inside Rock territory; however, Brignone recovered a loose ball for the Rocks on the next play.

Duplessis ripped off a 35-yard run on the first play to get into Warrior territory. Two incomplete passes forced the Rocks to try a 28-yard field goal with 2:07 remaining in the third quarter. Morreale's kick was good giving the Rocks a 24-7 lead.

The Rock defense stiffened on the next series led by Brignone, Cure, Dedeaux and Ellis to force a Warrior punt. SSC took over on their own 41 yardline. It took just one play to strike paydirt. Cuevas hit a streaking Sofianos for a 59-yard scoring strike with 11:42 remaining in the game. Morreale converted on the PAT making the score 31-7.

The Warriors mounted an 11-yard drive on the next series but four incomplete passes turned the ball back over to SSC at their own 38 yardline. Duplessis got the call up the middle for SSC and broke free for a 62-yard scoring run with 5:56 left in the game. Matt Kivlan kicked the PAT for the 38-7 lead.

The junior varsity defense took the field for the Rocks and allowed the Warriors to push to the Rock 11 yardline; however, the JV Rocks kept D'Iberville out of the endzone as time expired. David Grapusa, Chad Boos, Eric Lichenstein Danilo Balaguer, Ryan Ray, Grant West, Sylvester Twiggs and Kelly Mbadugha all had hits to stop the Warriors.

Wittmann concluded, "I was proud of the team tonight, especially in the second half. We have to hit the practice field hard this week and correct our mental errors. We have to practice hard and prepare for a strong Pearl River Central football team. The Blue Devils run the ball very well and Seth Hayden is the best running back I have seen in quite some time. The Blue Devils can also throw the ball well. They have a senior quarterback who is a solid player. We have our work cut out for us this week."

Defensively, the Rocks were led by Lee Klein with 14 total tackles followed by Jordan Ellis with 10 total tackles. JC Brignone added seven tackles and a fumble recovery in the win.

The Rocks will host the Pearl River Central Blue Devils in the first round of the state playoffs on Friday, November 5th. This is the second consecutive year that the Rocks have hosted a playoff game. The Blue Devils are the #4 seed from Division 7-4A. Game time in between the walls' is set for 7pm. See you at the game!

Annexation

Waveland attorneys have taken depositions, on Oct. 18, 19, and 20, from Bay Mayor Eddie Favre, city department heads, and annexation consultants, said Waveland annexation attorney, Chad Mask. The motion to sever will still be heard at a pretrial conference rescheduled for Nov. 18, Mask said.

Waveland attorneys began attempts as early as last February to arrange depositions and acquire needed information, correspondence shows.

In a letter to the city and its attorneys, dated September 17, Mask lists, by date, repeated attempts by Waveland attorneys to obtain deposition dates and needed information, including the Bay's services and facilities or annexation implementation plans, and advises the Bay that Waveland is planning to file the motion. Further correspondence shows that even after this notice, Bay officials continued to cancel appointments with Waveland attorneys or just not show up for scheduled appointments, leading Mask to file the motion in Chancery Court.

Besides delaying tactics and failure to meet deadlines, the motion states, counsel for Bay St. Louis represented to counsel for Waveland that no feasibility study existed for the Bay annexation.

Waveland, the motion states, has had no chance to evaluate the merits of the Bay's case and prepare a defense because of the complete refusal of the Bay and its counsel to fulfill discovery obligations. Waveland is fully prepared to present its own annexation case, the motion states. The motion also requests expenses relating to the motion and delays.

Despite troubles, all the parties involved still say that a compromise reached out of court would be best for all, that it makes the most sense, and that an out-of-court agreement could preserve the natural path of growth for both cities.

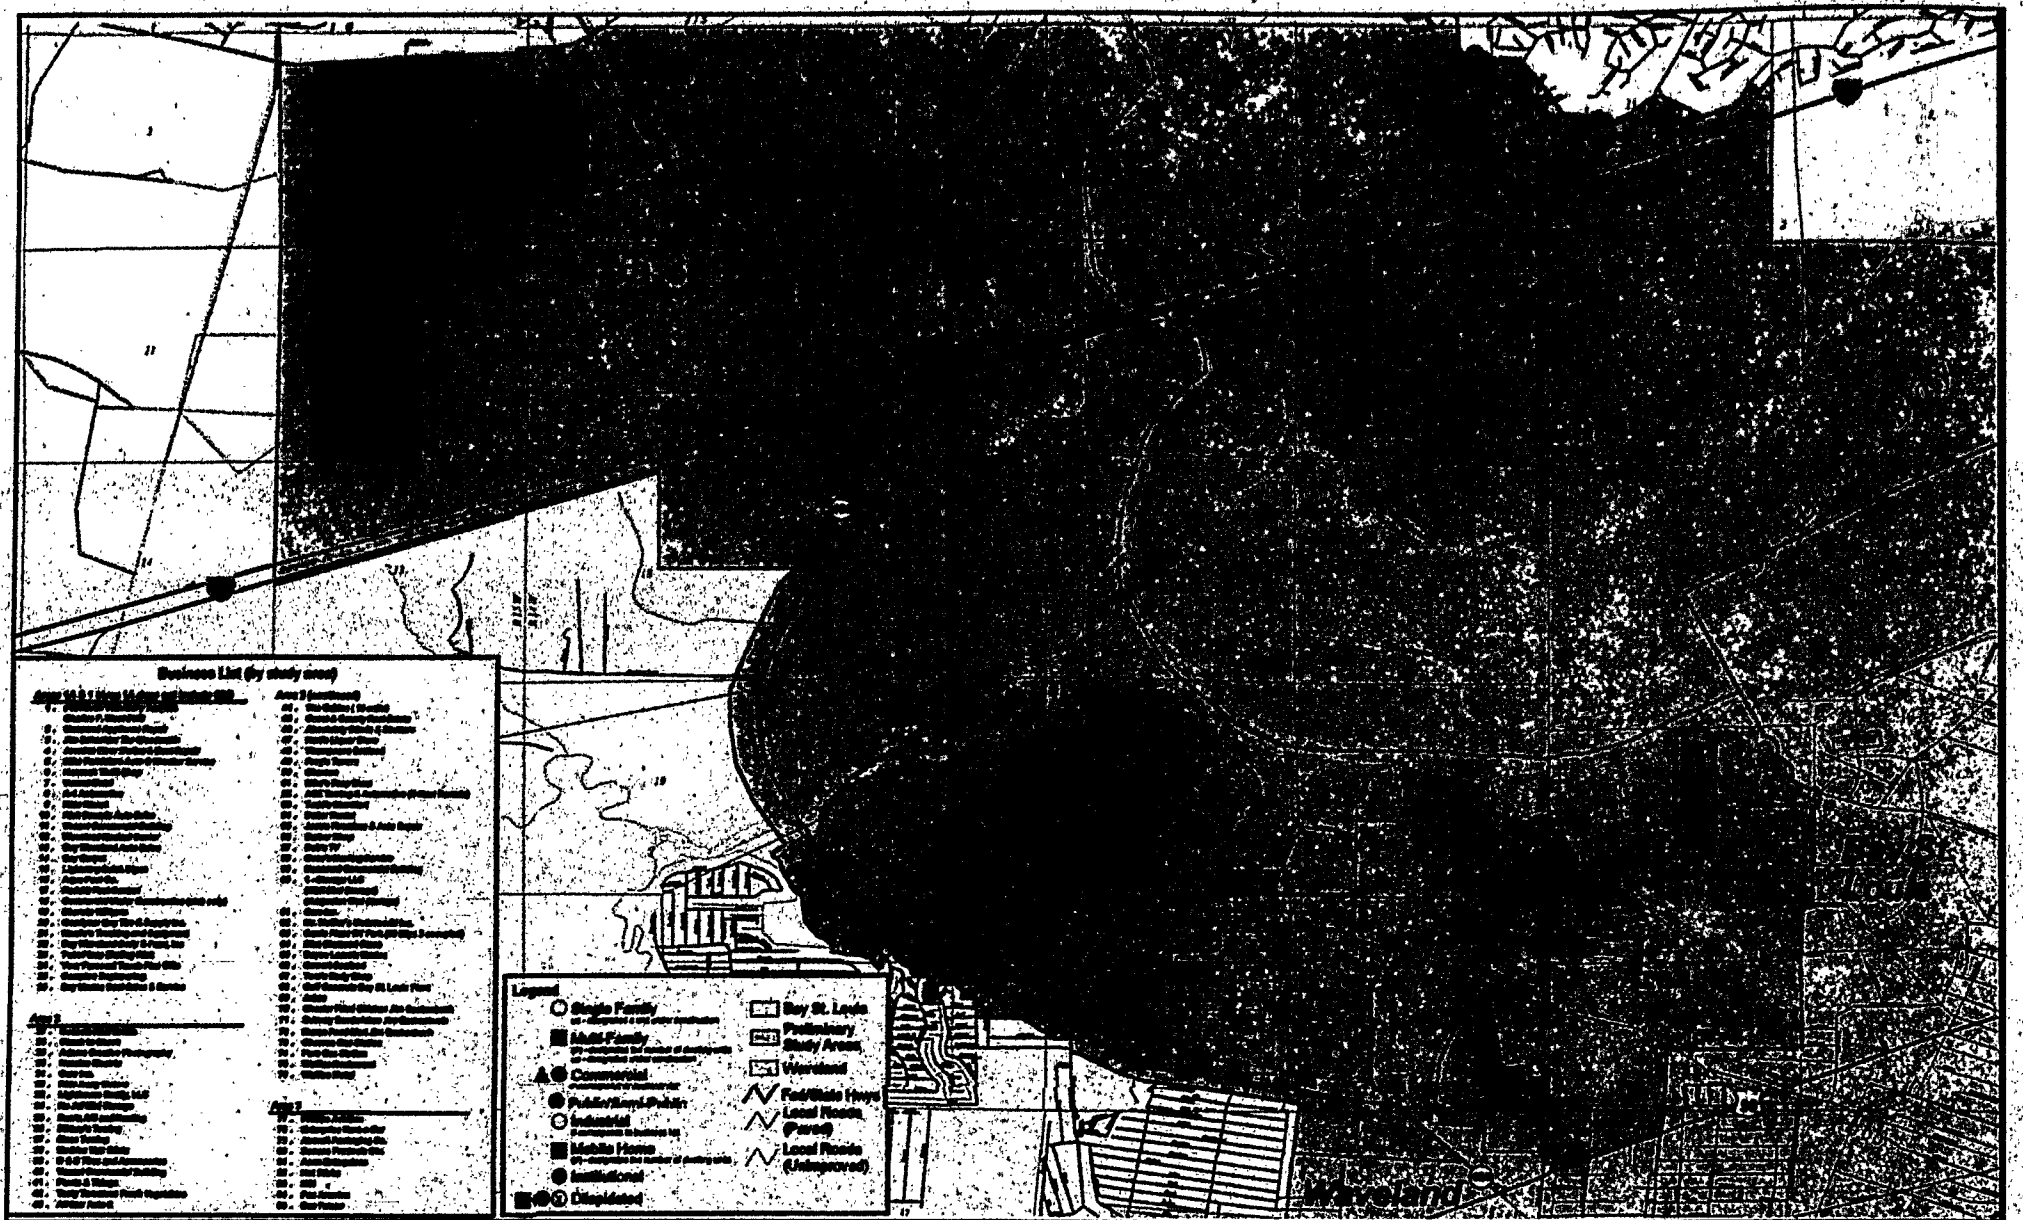

"We are still hoping and believe it would be beneficial to the people in the annexation area that we work out a compromise," said Favre on Thursday. Waveland Mayor Tommy Longo said he will continue to hope for a compromise that will be fair to both cities. Mask said that neither Waveland nor its attorneys and consultants have tried to hide the fact that they feel a fair compromise would be down the median of Hwy. 603, splitting the business corridor between the two cities. That would follow both cities' paths of growth, said Mask.

At issue is commercial areas along Hwy. 603. Bay St. Louis wants both sides of the business corridor, while Waveland is asking only for the west side of most of the corridor. Another area of contention falls near the I-10 corridor where several large developments are slated for construction. Both cities want portions of the corridor on both sides of Hwy. 603.

Waveland aldermen and Bay councilmen held several meetings to try to work out a compromise, but the negotiations failed. The filed annexation was an attempt to compromise with Bay St. Louis to avoid costly litigation, said Mask, "and what we (Waveland) felt was fair and reasonable and would not draw any opposition from Bay St. Louis."

Defense costs an enormous amount of money, said Bay attorney Donald Rafferty.

Annexation lines do not follow any county lines and any unincorporated area may be a candidate for annexation. Bay attorneys and consultants have implied that Waveland has the potential for unlimited growth to the west, Mask said, but in actuality the Stennis Buffer Zone severely limits the potential for growth in that direction.

Above: A map of the areas of the county that the Bay has studied for potential annexation. Current annexation plans include Area 1, 2 and part of area 3. Below: Current plans for annexation for Waveland. Waveland also studied areas west on Hwy. 90 and areas west on Beach Blvd.

No structures of any kind may be built in the Buffer Zone, which begins just a few miles outside the Waveland city limits and stretches all the way to the Louisiana border and beyond. The area is unusable for commercial or residential development and is either owned or leased by the federal government.

Mask said Waveland looked at going to the west both on Hwy. 90, and west on Beach Blvd., and an area just north of chosen path along Hwy. 603 in earlier studies before deciding on current boundaries, along and to the west of Hwy. 603. The city had been looking at the possibility of an annexation for years, said Longo, but filed the motion just before the Bay in defense of the city and its natural path of growth. The Bay, too, had been looking at annexation for some time. A map produced in discovery shows four possible paths of growth for the city, an area along the Jourdan River east of Hwy. 603, the Hwy. 603 corridor, north of I-10 encompassing Stennis International Airport and east of that area, and a final area encompassing a large portion of Diamondhead.

Favre said that the Bay is in good shape to take on the annexation despite recent reports to the contrary. He said that even after annexation costs, debt service payments, the cash purchase of a new fire truck and several police cars, that the city will have cash reserves totaling over $200,000 at the close of 2005. The city is prepared to provide immediate services of police and fire protection, and general public works services such as pothole repair, ditch cleaning and right of way mowing, to the annexed area, he said. Projects like road paving will not be possible right away, he said.

"The annexation needs to be a two way street, not just a land grab," he said.

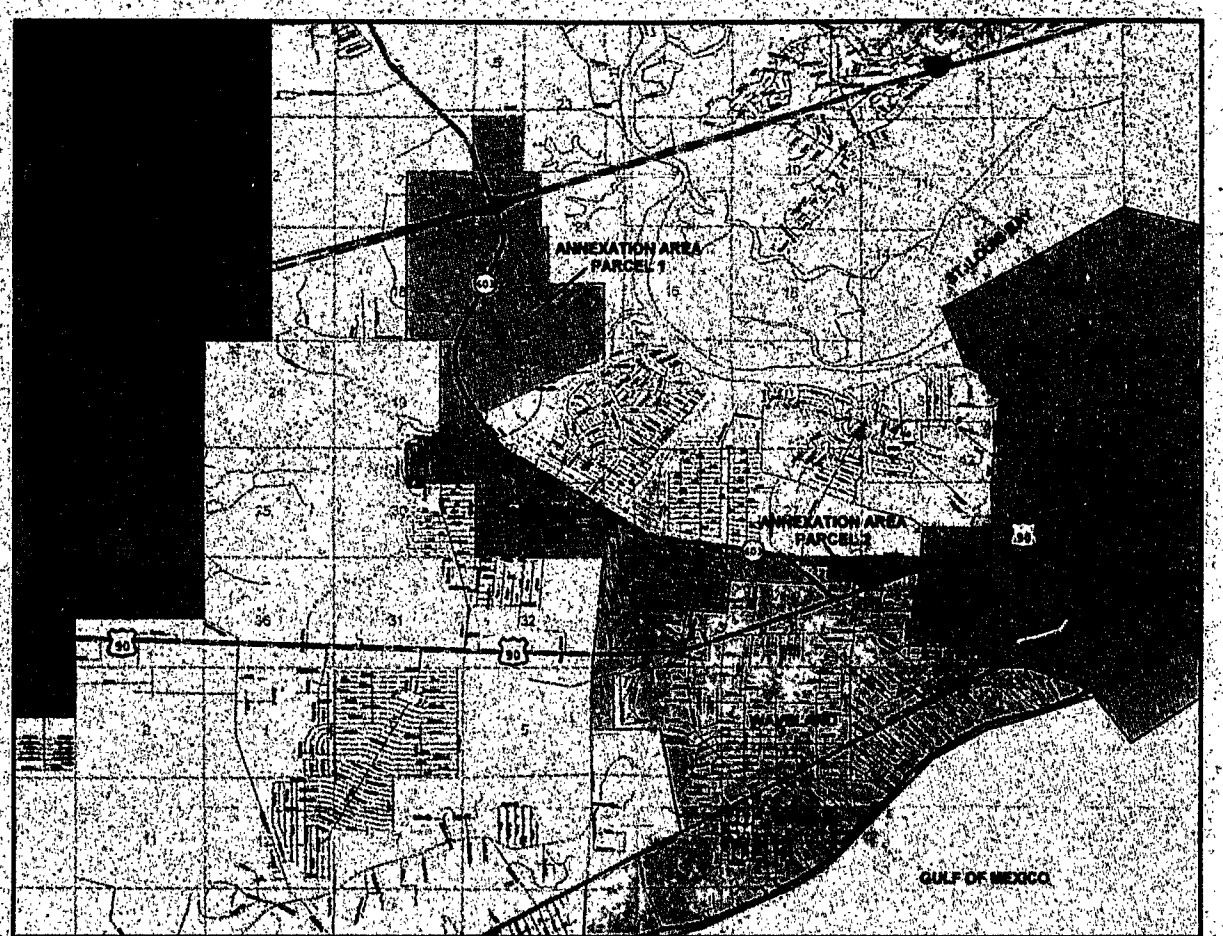

Water and sewer services that fall under the jurisdiction of Hancock Water and Sewer District will continue to be handled by that district, he said. The city will provide those services to the few who do not, he said. Favre said the city will be doubling the size of the public works department.

"Our goal is to provide services immediately," said Longo. "We have five to seven years to provide certain services, but our goal is to provide all services within a year. Some things will take longer than others, of course but fire protection, police, and public works will be immediate."

Longo said the city included the area of potential annexation in a new 20-year comprehensive plan of expansion for infrastructure and growth. About $125,000 of the city's now approximately $260,000 in annexation costs have gone to pay for this study, said city attorney Zach Butterworth. The study takes into account, needed fire protection, police, infrastructure expansions, including water and sewer and more, said Longo. If Hancock County Water and Sewer District is unable to provide services, we are prepared to do so in the densely populated areas, he said. The city has put a lot of time into planning for both present and future needs, he said.

Zoning ordinances and building codes enforced in the two cities will be enforced in the newly annexed areas of both cities, said Favre, with some grandfather clauses figured into the change over.

Views From a Front Porch

(This is a little different than the tales I usually tell. Those stories, although somewhat modified to respect privacy, are all true. This one, well, you'll see.)

"I see you have a cat. I thought you didn't like cats."

I was sitting on the low wooden platform beside the porch with my cousin, Peter. We were having morning coffee and some of Stella's pound cake.

Peter was pointing to the roof on the far side of the house. There, sitting on the very edge just above the gutter, was Holly, our black tomcat. Holly hadn't been visible since Peter had come to visit yesterday evening. He hadn't showed up last night when we went to bed and Stella had left him outside. Now he was back, but obviously keeping his distance.

"Well, I guess Holly's an exception to my feelings about cats," I said looking at Holly who just as avidly, was looking back at us. "We get along. He's usually a lot nosier though when we have company. I don't know why he is staying away from us the way he is." I called to Holly but he didn't move.

"He probably smells my cat, Pearl. Pearl's a tom and black, too. Looks like Jennie seems to have smelled Pearl also." He nodded toward Jennie, our Weimaraner, who lying on the porch dozing, was closer than Holly but still unusually distant. Every so often, like now when she felt we were talking about her, she opened her eyes and watched us.

Peter wasn't really my cousin, it was one of those things where your parents were close to another couple and you called them, "Aunt Mary" and "Uncle George," which in this case Mary and George were their names.

When I was young, Peter would always be with them when they came to visit. Although my mother and father thought Aunt Mary and Uncle George were wonderful people, I didn't

Plenty of treats
still available
for Halloween

THE SEA COAST ECHO

If you're looking to scare up some fun this All Hallow's Eve, it isn't too late. From haunted houses to a cemetery to a "Spook-tacular" church fair, there are still plenty of treats in store.

TRICK-OR-TREAT

The officially sanctioned times for trick-or-treating run from 5-8 p.m. in Bay St. Louis. Street closings will be in effect on Spanish Acres, Jackson Boulevard and Esplanade. The Bay PD urges caution while driving on Old Spanish Trail, as there will be increased vehicular and foot traffic. The Waveland Police Department will have extra units working, but will not close any streets. There is no sanctioned time for trick-or-treating in the city.

HOP HAVEN

HAUNTED HOUSE

Hope Haven will be sponsoring a haunted house at Waveland Furniture Liquidators on Highway 90 and Waveland Ave. The haunted house will run from dusk until 10 p.m. tonight.

Bay Catholic Elementary students participate in a ple-throwing booth Friday as part of the school's annual "Boo-to-Do" Halloween celebration.

ST. CLARE SPOOK-TACULAR

The Spook-tacular sponsored by St. Clare Catholic Church and School at Waveland will continue today from noon-6 p.m. It will feature food, games, rides, a silent auction and live entertainment. There will also be a bungee jump platform available.

CEDAR REST CEMETERY TOUR

The Hancock County Historical Society will present its annual Halloween tour Sunday October 31st from 5-8 in Cedar Rest Cemetery. Located on Second Street in Bay St. Louis, Cedar Rest was established as "the burying ground" in 1860 when Mr. Toulme donated the land to the city. Cedar Rest is the final resting place for many of the original settlers of Bay St. Louis, including Indians and soldiers from wars spanning the Revolutionary War, Spanish-American War through World War II, and Vietnam. The Historical Society started the tour when problems arose with vandals destroying grave-stones and painting on the walls around the cemetery.

"We figured we could create a way to save the cemetery while at the same time have fun and help with its' up-keep. By involving the community everyone has fun. We do accept donations at the gate, 100 percent of the donations are used to refurbish the headstones in the cemetery."

The Historical Society has organized the tour on Halloween night for the past 11 years. "We take 12-14 people who are buried in the cemetery and research their life, then we have either a descendent or people in the community come in and portray the person in the grave by giving a brief talk about their life."

The visitors are always welcomed by the 'nearly departed' (Dorthea Martin, society member, 91 years old.) then greeted by Kate Lobrano (portrayed by Pat

Some of the 'nearly departed' being portrayed this year by the historical society are: Richard Mendes who was city auditor, and one of the founders of Hancock Bank; Colonel Ben Posey, who served in the civil war and even escaped from prison camp, was former owner of the town's newspaper, and a prominent attorney; Maj. Charles Chadwick of the 38th Iowa infantry; Elihu

Red Giant mustard wins Mississippi Medallion

Southern Gardening

by Norman Winter
MSU Horticulturist

The 2004 Mississippi Medallion award-winning Red Giant Mustard may be just what you need to liven up your fall and winter garden.

If you haven't tried Red Giant mustard, you have missed one of the hottest new plants for the fall and winter. They are strikingly beautiful in the landscape and partner well with pansies like the Ullma, Apricot shades and Delta Fire, and are incredible interplanted with spring-blooming pink tulips. When planted now, it may look green with hints of burgundy but just wait. As temperatures get below 60 degrees, the burgundy red begins to develop, making the landscape pop. If these beautiful burgundy red leaves weren't enough to make you go out and buy one today, consider also that the Red Giant mustard is tasty when cooked just like other mustard greens.

Now is the ideal time to get them planted while it is cool but not freezing. This gives them time to acclimate

The strikingly beautiful Red Giant mustard is a colorful addition to fall and winter landscapes. Here it is surrounded by pink, spring-blooming tulips.

St. Stanislaus senior Ladner nominated for the Wendy's High School Heisman Award

St. Stanislaus senior, Austin Ladner, has been nominated for the Wendy's High School Heisman Award, according to Brother Ronald Hingle, SC, Principal.

Wendy's High School Heisman program is similar to the collegiate Heisman recognition program. This award honors the nation's top high school seniors who best exemplify a supreme "scholar-citizen-athlete."

Austin Ladner is the son of Ms. Mary Ladner and Mr. Alvin Ladner both of Bay St. Louis. He is a member of the National Honor Society, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes soccer representative, and a member of the varsity soccer team.

"We believe it's important to recognize our young men not just for what they do in the classroom or on the field, but their contributions to their community," said Brother Ronald. "The Wendy's High School Heisman program is a great way to showcase their diverse achievements for all to see."

Austin Ladner

Celebrating more than 10 years of commitment to youth and education, this program was created through a partnership between Wendy's, the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NAASP) and the Heisman Memorial Trust in 1994.

"These students are truly in a league of their own," says Archie Griffin, the only two-time winner of the prestigious Heisman Memorial Trophy and program spokesperson. "Each student nominated for the award has gone above and beyond expectations to help those in need, enhance their education and pursue their dreams."

All nominees will be posted on the Wendy's High School Heisman website in early October. To track a student's progress or to find out more about the program please log on to www.wendyshighschool-heisman.com or call 1-800-244-5161.

The Wendy's High School Heisman program is comprised of five phases: Nomination, State Finalists, State Winners, National Finalists, and National Winners. Entries are initially evaluated by ACT Assessment during the State Finalist and State Winner phases and then passed on to a distinguished panel of judges.

Saint Stanislaus College is a Catholic residency and day school for young men in grades 6-12. The school fosters character formation and integrates faith development within a curriculum which is primarily college preparatory.

care for them. They always made me feel uncomfortable. It seemed to me that they were artificial and that they're laughs and general air of affability that my parents liked so much was the cover for something different, something I intuitively didn't like. I was more than uncomfortable when they talked to me. I was a little afraid.

But Peter was different. I liked Peter and he liked me. He was tall, thin and extremely quiet, and despite being several years older than me, we became very close friends. We always enjoyed each other's company, disappearing into my room during their visits and staying for hours playing board games until his parents came and got him and left.

We never visited them. Peter's parents died many years later in a car crash. The accident happened long after I was grown to adulthood and moved away. Peter was the one who told me about his parent's death. He had maintained ties with me and when Stella and I got married and moved to the coast, he would come to visit us occasionally, driving down from Tupelo in his beautiful blue old Lincoln and stay for a day or two. Stella liked him and we both looked forward to his brief visits. After his parent's death, his visits became less frequent and we hadn't seen him for several years.

As we sat there, I wondered how I was going to bring up the fact that Peter did not look well. Stella had mentioned it to me last night that he appeared ill and here in the bright light of a fall morning, I could see what she meant.

"I'm sorry I haven't been by to see you and Stella these last few years," Peter said bringing up the subject himself, "but things have been difficult for a long time." He sat staring out at the water and then abruptly seemed to change the subject. "You never liked my mother and father. Now, now, don't say anything." He waved aside my protests. "You didn't and I guess, I can't blame you."

He sat still, as if composing his thoughts. "I was a big disappointment to them, you know. I was different from them and although they tried, they couldn't change me. God knows they tried. I was actually glad when they had their accident."

He was silent for a long while and then turned and looked directly at me. "I've been seeing them now for about three years." He turned and sat still, again staring out at the water. I kept very quiet.

"It's usually late at night. I can see Mother is in the background, scowling like she's upset. Father is always closer and he's angry. He seems to think the accident was my fault. It wasn't, I had nothing to do with it, but they want me to think that I did. They seem to think that my being involved in their deaths proves something about me. They're actually glad about what I'm supposed to have done and how I did it. They appear to be urging me to act on that and are extremely upset that I haven't."

He got up and stared at the distant figure of Holly. "After awhile, I couldn't stand their constant visits, their silent accusations, their demands. That's when I got Pearl. He's a big cat, bigger than Holly, much bigger."

He sat down again and returned to looking out over the water. "The first night my parents came and found Pearl there beside me, they almost went crazy. They kept trying to move around him, going from room to room trying to get close to me, but Pearl was always with me and they seemed to hate being anywhere near him. They yelled at me, screamed; but I couldn't hear them."

"I haven't seen them for a while, although I sometimes see Pearl staring at some corner late at night and I know they're not far away. But they haven't been back."

"Well, it doesn't matter anymore. I've been ill, as you've noticed. I saw Stella staring at me last night." He turned back to me and smiled and I saw again the Peter that was my boyhood friend. "I wanted to come by once more and see you. I wanted to tell you I haven't changed and that I still love you and Stella."

That night Stella fixed a wonderful dinner and we talked till late, laughing and telling stories about times that are gone but still come back to friends in the late hours of an evening.

The next day he drove back to Tupelo.

Several months later, I was awakened by a soft muzzle touching my arm. It was Jennie. I laid still and listened for thunder. Jennie may be a big ferocious-looking dog, but she is soul-afraid of thunder. She's usually very good about sleeping in our bedroom, but when she hears thunder, she becomes terrified and wakes me up.

I lay there and listened. I didn't hear any thunder and started to go back to sleep. She nudged me again and I opened my eyes and looked at her. The dark shape of her head was turned towards the doorway. There, sitting in the doorway, was Holly! He was watching us!

I realized that that was not possible. Holly spends his nights locked in the kitchen; he couldn't be here. As I became more awake, I realized that the cat I was seeing in the dim light was too big to be Holly.

I lay still not moving, noting that what little light there was coming from behind the cat. Despite this, his eyes were bright and they seemed intently focused on me.

All this took place over only a few seconds. I didn't feel fear, and motioned for Jennie to lie down and be still. Slowly, with a soft scrapping of her paws on the wood floor, she did, never taking her eyes off the large cat sitting in the doorway. The tableau lasted for perhaps a minute more with each of us remaining absolutely still. Then the cat was gone.

I watched for a few minutes more and then, when he didn't return, I drifted back to sleep.

The next morning over a late breakfast I told Stella what had happened.

"Are you sure it wasn't Holly?"

"Positive."

"No chance of it being a dream."

"Jennie was the one who woke me. She was scared. We both couldn't have the same dream." I stopped and considered what I had to say and then said it "Stella, I think it was Pearl, I think it was the big black tom Peter told me about when he was here. I think it was him I saw sitting in the doorway."

The phone rang and

Stella got up and answered it in the kitchen. She talked quietly to someone for a few moments and then came back and rejoined me at the dining room table.

"That was Martha, Peter's housekeeper. When she came to work early this morning she found Peter had died in his sleep last night. Peter had told her to call us if anything happened to him." She leaned forward and put her hand over mine. We sat quietly for a few moments.

"I asked her about Peter's cat. She said Peter has never had a cat."

Public Notice - because you have the right to know!

Your dimes conquered polio.
Give us a hand with premature birth.

Fifty years ago, Americans helped the March of Dimes fund polio research. Today a new epidemic threatens our babies—premature birth. Each year more than 460,000 are born premature. It's the leading cause of newborn death and many disabilities. Please go online to help the March of Dimes raise research funds. Together we can find the answers that will save premature babies.

Select a site in full sun with fertile, organic-rich soil. If the planting area has tight, heavy clay, amend with compost or humus to loosen. While preparing the soil, incorporate 2 pounds of a slow-release, 12-6-6-fertilizer with minor nutrients per 100 square feet of garden. Set out nursery-grown transplants 12- to 18-inches apart and add a layer of mulch.

Keep the Red Giant mustard growing vigorously with supplemental water during dry, cold periods and light applications of fertilizer every four to six weeks. Florida research has shown an even better response to water-soluble fertilizer once temperatures have gotten colder.

If abnormally cold weather is forecast, completely cover with a layer of pine straw and remove once temperatures have moderated.

The Red Giant mustard offers a lot of choices for companion plants. For a "Southern Gardening" television segment, we used the Red Giant mustard with the Delta Fire pansy and Tahiti daffodil. Delta Fire pansies have flowers that are brilliant yellow with shades of burgundy to rust.

Yellow Sonnet or Liberty snapdragons as well as the new dwarf Montego series offer great opportunities for combination plantings. Montegos come in several colors and are actually smaller than the Red Giant mustard. If you want a taller selection, try the Ribbons or the Sonnets.

Ornamental grasses and fall chrysanthemums also make great companion plants. Try the Red Giant with purple fountain grass, dwarf pampas or the dwarf fountain grass variety Hameln. Yellow Jacket chrysanthemums would be exceptional partner.

Shop now while selections are greatest and temperatures are moderate. The winter landscape doesn't have to be dreary. The Red Giant mustard and pansies like Ultima Apricot Shades or Delta Fire are just a few of the great choices waiting for you.

The Mississippi Medallion program was started in 1996 and is sponsored by the Mississippi State University Extension Service, Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station, Mississippi Nursery and Landscape Association and the Mississippi Plant Selections Committee.

Professional Cleaning... the Best Choice for Your Clothes.

Bay Cleaners, located in Zuppardo Shopping Center is under new ownership. Saint Stanislaus and William Carey College graduate Kile Foster is the new owner and is always on site to ensure quality service to his valued customers.

Bay Cleaners provides specialized treatment to fabrics that require expert care such as silk and wool. Bay Cleaners consistently delivers "like new" clothing to their customers. Good clothing is costly, why would you trust your investment to anyone else but Bay Cleaners. Manager Christine Beck has been in the dry cleaning business for 15 years with 10 years at Bay Cleaners. She has the expertise to help maximize the appearance as well as the lifespan of your wardrobe. After all, isn't that what you expect from a dry cleaner?

Bay Cleaners is the only full service laundry and dry cleaner in town that provides same day service. All work is done in-house. Your valuable clothing is not sent to some unknown destination.

Industry research has shown that clean clothing lasts longer. Professional cleaning performed by Bay Cleaners removes food, beverage and perspiration stains that if left untreated can cause a permanent stain or fiber damage. The expert pressing done at Bay Cleaners preserves the proper fit and drape of your garments.

Consumers today are seeing a flood of do-it-yourself kits for your "dry clean only" clothes. They even claim to remove stains. Don't be misled, these products cannot replace professional drycleaning, they could even make your stain worse!

Bay Cleaners also offers cleaning and heirloom of wedding gowns as well as leather and suede cleaning. Don't trust your valuable clothing to anyone else but Bay Cleaners. For more information you may call 466-4422.

Don't Run Down Steps

One day as a young boy, I was on my way to church when, knowing I was already late for the service, I tried to rush. I remember that I was running down some steps in front of my home when I fell and bruised myself in several places. I recall thinking, "Here I am going to church, so why would God let me fall down and hurt myself?" I was blaming God for my clumsiness. And although blaming God when things go wrong may seem absurd, it's not too surprising in a day and age when we may fail to accept responsibility for our own actions, often blaming others for our shortcomings instead. And, when a disastrous situation comes along that can't be blamed on some individual, we can always blame God. However, a more beneficial approach is knowing that God always loves us, and even when things don't go as we believe they should, realizing that perhaps He is trying to teach us a lesson. I only fell down those steps once, and I am now aware that when descending stairs I should go one step at a time and without running. Throughout our lives, we are subject to many learning experiences, and God's gentleness in dealing with us should always be appreciated.

The Lord is good; He protects His people in times of trouble; He takes care of those who turn to Him.

Respecting Our Sainted Mothers

Drawing near to someone lying mortally afflicted in a hospital bed is an experience which never grows old. Always painful, it can nevertheless be rewarding as it was Monday night past. Margaret Garner was obviously distraught, yet serenely peaceful.

As I walked in, she recognized me immediately despite extreme weakness. With a bit of thoughtless, careless motion, I rested my right hand lightly on her left shoulder for balance in order to plant a kiss on her right cheek. She winced and moaned in pain in spite of the fact that my hand rested very lightly on her shoulder.

It was all too clear that she could not stand even the slightest pressure on any part of her body. I backed off sheepishly, rested my hand on the bed, and managed to plant that kiss on her cheek. With a wan smile and evident effort, she acknowledged me gently.

I was amazed at how good she looked. She reminded me of a parishioner who died several years ago. Always attractive in appearance, that parishioner looked just as beautiful as ever before. As I prayed over her on her deathbed, I dared to josh with her:

"Girl, you look entirely too good to be dying. You cannot be dying."

"Oh, but I am dying, father," she smiled weakly. That was her last night on earth.

Always a pearl, Margaret lived up to the Latin meaning of her name. A ready smile almost always lit up her face, notwithstanding numerous and sundry problems which seemed to bedevil her every step. The most remarkable thing which I noticed about her was that she never spoke ill or negatively of anyone, not even of those who afflicted her.

As I stood there at her deathbed, these are the things which led me to muse that I was watching a saint, a heroic mother and Christian who deeply loved God and her family. Yes, I was telling myself, here is someone around whom you never felt threatened, with whom you always felt comfortable and always felt better about yourself and the world.

Connecting her on the phone with John, her husband, I listened to the one-sided conversation punctuated by a few, weak words from the mouth of Margaret. Suddenly, the telephone slipped down as she fell into a slumber. I hung the phone up.

When she opened her eyes again, I prayed with her a bit, bent over and kissed her cheek again, then told her: "I love you. God bless you!" Easing off into the night, I did not realize that she had only twelve more hours of life here on earth. Her type IV cancer, which she had been battling for a couple of years, was finally about to take her away.

Here was one of those unrecognized, unnoticed and unacknowledged saints whom the world and believers at large do not think of as saints. Yet, they are no less saints than those few who eventually swerve into the notoriety of the process of canonization.

There is something very special to be said about an everyday saint like Margaret who was certainly just one of us, but did the workaday things of daily life so much better than most of us. I, for one, assure you that I relate more powerfully to a saint like this than to the holy ones of worldwide fame who become celebrities far beyond religious circles.

Even as I roll her memory around in my head, I reflect on how fortunate I was that she came into my life, crossing my path through her daughter Joan. I am a strong witness, professing my firm conviction that I knew, conversed with and paid visits to a live saint.

How can we conclude such a thing as the heroic holiness of a housewife and mother? The simplest way is to compare her with all the others whom we know well.

In doing that, I honestly find that Margaret stands with very few others in her outstanding life of faith, peacefulness, concern, tolerance and a comfortable, reassuring human presence.

Margaret's daughter Joan was devastated when she learned of her mother's moving on to eternal life, even though, while driving past the hospital that very morning, she had blessed her mother with a big sign of the cross, extended her hand in blessing, and smiled at just about the time of her mother's death at 8:30.

"I don't know why I was smiling, but I did," she observed.

Of course, we can easily surmise why Joan was smiling while losing the person closest to her on this earth. She had done whatever she could to obey her mother, to reverence her and to provide for her needs, especially after the severe onset of her terminal illness.

Even more than not having a guilty conscience for not taking care of her mother, Joan had a fulfilled conscience for doing everything she could, and she had the secure belief that her mother went immediately to God's kingdom where all dedicated mothers go.

As we bear down hard on All Saints day, almost all of us have the same sentiments about our own mothers living and dead. Mother is the connecting linchpin for all the other roots and branches of our genealogy, beginning with father himself.

Just as Margaret's husband and daughter continue to draw strength from the memory of her faith and exemplary life, so do all of us derive power, inspiration and motivation from those of our living relatives as well as our ancestors who have shown us how to live.

"Ancestor worship: the custom of venerating deceased ancestors who are considered still a part of the family and whose spirits are believed to have the power to intervene in the affairs of the living."

That is the fascinating definition found in Webster's dictionary. While this describes an African belief and practice antedating Christianity by tens of thousands of years, it nevertheless fits exactly into our belief concerning the Communion of all saints.

Reflections on Life

by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

The "Word" for the Week
Dennis J. Proutow • Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

Beware the dark!

Years ago, I went to a large warehouse on the river front to check on some merchandise that was delivered there. The merchandise was on the second floor. Up to the second floor I went, it was pitch black and you could not see your hand in front of you. I struck one single match and the darkness was in flight.

Spiritually that happens when a Christian speaks to a unsaved person. The light of truth will flash into that person's soul and darkness begins to flee. Light and darkness don't mix. The darkness in people blind them from God's light of life. Unsaved people or so blinded they prefer the darkness of death rather than the light of life.

Says... and what light has come into the world, and men loved darkness, rather than light because their deeds are evil. John 3:19 That is such a profound truth. Pornography, illicit sex, dominate the minds of many.

Is not adultery, fornication, unnatural sex behavior smiled upon today? Many will say to this immorality, this is my own business, my choosing.

Men prefer darkness rather than light because their deeds or evil. Sin blinds men and keeps them in darkness. Dead men walking.

The Lord Jesus is the light of the world. He is ready and willing to give you the light of life. Christians have a responsibility to let their light so shine; that the darkness in men want to flee.

The blind cannot lead the blind, but the Christian can strike a spiritual match and light up the soul that's in darkness.

One God, three persons

When something does not seem logical at first, does that mean it is not true? Of course not. Every high school student has studied Einstein's theory of relativity.

That theory helped scientists harness the power of the atom. That theory tells us when you approach the speed of light, time slows down. Now that does not seem logical to me. But whether my mind can comprehend it or not, that does not change the truth.

The same thing applies when we talk about God. For one thing, God knows everything. Many people think they know everything. But only God knows everything. That's why God says, "As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts higher than your thoughts" (Isaiah 55:9). God also reveals Himself to us in the Bible as One God in three persons. Now that does not seem at all logical. But this does not mean the Bible is not true. God the Father is God. There is no dispute about this. God the Son, that is, Jesus Christ, is also God. The Bible says He "alone possesses immortality" (1 Timothy 6:16). Because Jesus Christ is the source of all life, He must be God. Then too, the Holy Spirit is God. The Holy Spirit is not some kind of force, as the force in Star Wars. The Holy Spirit is God. "God is Spirit" (John 4:24). God's Spirit is the Holy Spirit. Our response to this might be the same as King David's in Psalms 149:6, "Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is too high, I cannot attain to it". If you do not believe these things to be true, you do not believe in the God of the Bible. If you do not believe in the God of the Bible, you cannot really be a Christian. ## GLT's Show Biz Kidz youth production of 'Toyshop'

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The Gulfport Little Theatre's Show Biz Kidz will present "The Enchanted Toyshop" written and directed by Lee Green Pope, Nov. 5-7 and Nov. 12-14, Friday and Saturdays at 7 p.m.; Sunday afternoons at 3 p.m.

The production takes place at 2600 13th Ave. in Gulfport, one block off Pass Road, behind Chris' Beauty College.

"The Enchanted Toyshop" is an original work by playwright Lee Green Pope. It tells the story of a cruel landlord who is about to foreclose on Mrs. Goody's toy store and turn it into a garbage dump.

Surprises occur as the toys magically come to life to save the shop from destruction. Over 40 Coast area youths take part in this fun-filled musical production.

Tickets are $7 for adults, and $5 for students. General seating, no reserved seats. The theater box office will open one hour before curtain times.

Cast members are: Claire Burkes, Georgeann Campbell, Nate Condra, Brittany Cook, Cayla Derbigny, Courtni Derbigny, Tasha Duncan, Philip Dutton, Breanna Fennell, Christopher Gaston, Jordan Healy, Emily Jacobsen, Emily Jenkins, Isabelle Karpinski, Sophie Kremer, Megan Krynen, Laura Ladner, Jordyn Lester, Allison Lingsch, Jennifer Logan, Lauren Mayfield, Layla McCowin, Sarah McCowin, Trey Millsap, Sarah Nazaretian, Logan Parker, Alex Purchner, Katie Purchner, Shelby Purchner, Tyler Purchner, Bryce Russell, Olivia Russell, Summer Schenck, Melina Shaw, Bailey Smith, Cameron Smith, Abby Thomas, Seth Thomas, Colton Wales, Dillon Wales, Haley Wheeler, Randi

through any Ticketmaster

outlet.

The youngest of eight children, Gayle grew up in Kentucky's Appalachian coal mining country. She signed her first recording contract while still in high school and has been performing for over 25 years. A Grammy Award winner, Gayle has produced a dozen albums with hits that include: "Don't It Make My Brown Eyes Blue," "Wrong Road Again," "I'll Get Over You," "You and I," and many more.

Don't miss Crystal Gayle, November 19 & 20, at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis! Must be 21 to attend.

Doherty spices up the luau as 'North Shore' returns to Fox

By John Crook
© Zap2it

As vengeful Beverly Hills businesswoman Alexandra Hudson, Shannen Doherty is having a ball making life miserable for most of the other characters on "North Shore," the nighttime soap that returns to the Fox lineup Thursday, Nov. 4.

Make no mistake, though, the actress says she is determined to keep all the melodrama in front of the cameras and out of her personal life.

"We sort of take it three episodes at a time," Doherty says of her open-ended guest-starring role. "We talk a lot, you know: Am I enjoying playing the character? Are they still enjoying me playing her? Obviously, they have stories in mind for the character through the end of the season, so I may wind up here in Hawaii through the end of January.

"But I don't want to be anywhere I am not wanted. I am very big on that. Life is just too short. If I feel that is starting to happen here on 'North Shore,' then I want to make a quick but graceful exit, because I have a lot of other things happening in my career. I am just too old for drama."

But not too old to add some much-needed spice to a series that has struggled to find a clear identity since its premiere in June. Doherty's arrival two episodes ago immediately gave "North Shore" the same sort of bracing celebrity jolt that Joan Collins brought to "Dynasty" or Heather Locklear added to "Melrose Place," two earlier soaps that managed healthy runs.

"People feel very emotional and connected to Shannen," says Bert Salke, one of the show's executive producers. "They have grown up very loyal and invested in her as an actress and in the roles she plays."

"Shannen has the ability to play vulnerability and manipulation very well," adds Chris Brancato, another executive producer. "These two qualities are perfect for her role as the head of the hotel, and she brings a lot of layers and levels to the character."

Alexandra, Doherty's character, recently arrived in Hawaii with the stunning news that she is the half-sister of Nicole Booth (Brooke Burns). Their father, Walter (recurring guest star Christopher MacDonald), virtually abandoned Alexandra and her mother, now dead.

Celebrity Scoop

Caroline Rhea

By John Crook
© Zap2it

Caroline Rhea is an outspoken advocate for "The Biggest Loser," the weight loss competition show she currently hosts Tuesdays on NBC.

The show has a game show component - with two competing teams, each week the team losing the least amount of weight is forced to eliminate one of its members - but Rhea says she was sold on the underlying goal of the show: helping people get healthier. "Some reality shows are mean-spirited, so when they approached me about this, I was struck by the fact that it had to do with becoming healthier, with a positive outcome," she explains. "I thought, well, that could be pretty inspiring."

"I was very hesitant. I didn't want to do anything hurtful, but then I thought, maybe I'm the right person for this job because I love talking with 'regular' people and maybe I could be encouraging."

Instead, Rhea says, she herself has found inspiration in the commitment of the "Biggest Loser" contestants, and she feels confident that viewers pick up on the same positive vibes.

"I think more than any other reality show, people actually will want to be on this one," she says. "Even when people are eliminated, they still walk away a great deal healthier than when they got there. They've tried other plans that didn't work for whatever reason and I have to say it's extraordinary how much weight people (on the show) have lost already, and how much more confident they are."

"These people are so brave, and to do this on television. But this is such a relatable topic, and ... I'm convinced that, by the time the show is over, some of these people will be more famous than I'll ever be."

Birth name: Caroline Gilchrist Rhea

Born: April 13, 1964, in Montreal, Canada

The high C's: She is the youngest of three sisters named Cynthia, Celia and Caroline.

Marital status: Single

Big break: First achieved fame as a stand-up comic working at Catch a Rising Star and other major clubs.

TV series credits: "Pride & Joy," "Sabrina, the Teenage Witch," "The Drew Carey Show," "Teen Angel" and "The Nanny."

Talk show: "The Caroline Rhea Show."

Coming up: co-stars with Tim Allen and Jamie Lee Curtis in "Christmas With the Kranks," a 2004 holiday movie comedy.

Horoscope This Week

By Caroline James - Zap2it

Oct. 31 through Nov. 6, 2004

Aries (March 21 - April 20)

Communicating your long-range needs to people close to you should become easier. Travel is the focus.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

It's a good time to look at anything that legally binds you to another person. You'll need to know for the future.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

Setting down your needs won't seem as selfish as you once thought, and your partner should be receptive.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

A minor but nagging health problem should be taken care of. You'll question why you didn't do it sooner.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

Creative pursuits are at the top of your list. Aim higher than you think you can reach - you'll be surprised at the results.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

Hearts and home are always on your mind. Why not invite some people to share it with you?

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

Living for the moment is an important quality to possess. Embody that spirit in the next major decision you make.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

Ownership is something you take pride in. It would help if you thanked people who have helped you out along the way.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

Ideas for getting ahead will come at you out of nowhere. Share them with important people, and you'll move ahead.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

Keeping your own council is the best thing you can do right now, even if others are prying.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

Friends are popping out of the woodwork. If you make time for them now, they'll help you out later.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

Career aspirations are important to you, as you figure out how to provide for everyone. Keep an eye on opportunity.

Sports Best Bets

By Mark Passaro
Zap2it

"NASCAR Racing" Sunday, Oct. 31 (NBC, 12:30 p.m. ET): Unlike any other contender this week in NASCAR's championship chase, Mark Martin gave himself three chances to win at Atlanta Motor Speedway. The first two - Friday's ASA race and the Busch Series clash Saturday - served only as preps for the one Martin would love to pocket, today's Nextel Cup Bass Pro Shops MBNA 500. Jeff Gordon is the defending champion, while Dale Earnhardt Jr. won this season's other Atlanta race in March.

"NFL Football" Monday, Nov. 1 (ABC, 9 p.m. ET): With quarterback

Gad Pennington playing his usual solid game, the Jets won their first four games, the second time they've done that in their history. The last time, in 2000, New York finished 9-7 and missed the playoffs. So winning when they should, like tonight versus AFC East foe Miami, is important. The Dolphins have played like minnows on offense, offsetting one of the league's top defenses. The storied franchise began 0-5 for the first time since 1966.

"Boxing" Saturday, Nov. 6 (Showtime, 9 p.m. ET): After many starts and stops, the long-anticipated title rematch between IBF junior welterweight champion Kostya Tszyu (30-1, 24 KOs) and Sharmba Mitchell (55-3, 30 KOs) takes place in Phoenix. The 35-year-old Tszyu's legacy as one of the best 140-pound champs was secured when he beat Mitchell, 34, in 2001 to unify welterweight titles. He hasn't fought, though, since beating James Leija early in 2003, twice postponing this bout because of injuries.

Chad Pennington leads the New York Jets against the Miami Dolphins Monday on ABC.

Cover Story

It's business as usual in 'The O.C.' as Fox serial returns

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

After a longer wait than fans would have liked, it's finally time to return to "The O.C."

Although it aired a couple of recap/warm-up specials in September, Fox wanted to finish covering baseball's postseason before launching the serial's second season. New episodes begin Thursday, Nov. 4, with many questions left over from last year to be answered for viewers... and also for the Orange County, Calif., characters in the drama, which proved to be one of the 2003-2004 TV year's most popular new series. (MTV has since tried to cash in with its unscripted show "Laguna Beach: The Real Orange County.")

A newly released DVD set of first-year "O.C." stories also provides a refresher, but when we left them last spring:

Ryan Atwood (Benjamin McKenzie), the newest kid on the affluent block, had returned to working-class Chino to do the right thing by staying with pregnant ex-girlfriend Theresa (Navi Rawat).

Marissa Cooper (Mischa Barton), Ryan's latest flame, had been blackmailed into going along with her social-climber mother Julie's (Melinda Clarke) new marriage to ruthless tycoon Caleb Nichol (Alan Dale).

Seth Cohen (Adam Brody) was prompted by Ryan's departure to literally sail away from the O.C. life he led with his parents, Sandy and Caleb's daughter Kirsten (Peter Gallagher, Kelly Rowland), and his girlfriend Summer Roberts (Rachel Bilson).

Jimmy Cooper (Tate Donovan), the seemingly hapless father of Marissa and ex-husband of Julie, had taken up with Kirsten's sister Hailey (Amanda Righetti, now a co-star of "North Shore," which returns to the Fox lineup immediately after "The O.C." season premiere).

That's a lot to resolve, but the first new episode, "The Distance," gives it a shot. Sandy goes after Ryan with Kirsten's blessing, hoping that bringing him back to the Cohen household will inspire Seth to return, and Marissa becomes attracted to a hunky gardener (Nicholas Gonzalez). Former series regular Chris Carmack and Brian McNamara reprise their first-season roles as Luke Ward, Marissa's ex-boyfriend, and his father Carson.

It was never a question of "Would Ryan come back?" series creator and executive producer Josh Schwartz maintains, "but a question of how," and also of how his leaving and Seth's absence have sort of torn this community and these families apart, and of everything they're going to have to rectify and rebuild once they've returned. And how long will that take? Not surprisingly, Schwartz replies, "That, I can't tell you."

However, actors Barton, McKenzie and Brody can tell you how it feels to go from being relative unknowns to much-photographed idols of young viewers. McKenzie couldn't even escape his new fame in China last summer, since other visitors noticed him almost immediately. "I'm very lucky to have parents and two brothers who are very supportive," he says. "If I didn't, I don't know how it'd be different. Who I really am from how people see me, that's this odd thing that happens when you're in the public eye. If you want to be a celebrity who vies for attention, that can be bad, but that's not me."

Barton has gotten extra exposure through skin-care-product ads and, courtesy of tabloids, her romance with oil-family heir Brandon Davis. "I think it's always important to promote a product that you want to be successful," she says. "You have to work for that. I'm very proud of everything that's come out of this, in general. It's entirely flattering to be on the covers of magazines and to be offered the chance to do endorsements, so you can't really complain."

Neither can Brody, who spent part of his hiatus working with Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie on the forthcoming movie "Mr. and Mrs. Smith" (directed by Doug Liman, an executive consultant on "The O.C."). "It's weird to be known so well for playing this one character," Brody allows of the engagingly nerdy Seth. "My only concern is that I hope I don't get so well-known for this character that I can't be seen as anyone else. That said, I'm not too worried about it. I feel like I can make that transition, and if I can't, I feel it'll be more because I didn't make smart-enough choices or wasn't a good-enough actor."

'Lost' actor started out playing junior sleuth

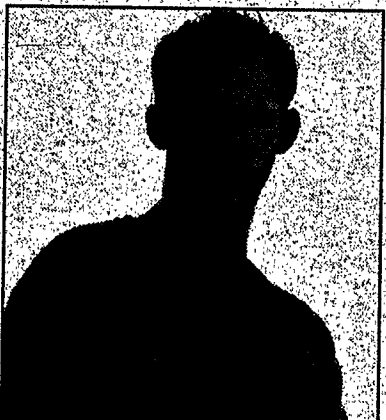

By Taylor Michaels

Q Am I correct that the young man who hid his drugs in the airplane bathroom during the pilot episode of ABC's "Lost" is the same lad who played Hetty Wainthropp's assistant in that British mystery series? —M.J. Cordell via e-mail.

A Nice catch! Yes, Dominic Monaghan makes his American TV series debut at age 27 as Charlie in "Lost." He first attracted attention in this country as fledgling sleuth Geoffrey Shawcross in the popular British mystery series "Hetty Wainthropp Investigates," starring Patricia Routledge.

Of course, to an international moviegoing audience, Monaghan also is known as courageous hobbit Meriadoc "Merry" Brandybuck in Peter Jackson's Oscar-winning epic trilogy "The Lord of the Rings," although Monaghan recently told me he doesn't get mobbed by autograph seekers.

"I don't really look like Merry without the wig and hobbit feet on," he explains, "so people don't generally recognize me when they see me out on the street. I usually get people just staring at me in that 'Where do I know you from?' way."

Q Why was the actress who played Sydney, the oldest daughter, on "Hope & Faith" replaced this season? —Len Malo via e-mail.

A In fine-tuning the character dynamics on the show, the writers and producers wanted to make oldest daughter Sydney a little wilder and headstrong, qualities for which they deemed new actress Megan Fox to be a better fit than the original player, Nicole Paggi.

That's a tough break for Paggi, but such creative changes are common in television these days.

Q Is Christopher Meloni ("Law & Order: Special Victims Unit"), married? Any children? —Betty, Wildwood Crest, N.J.

A Yes, the 43-year-old Meloni, who recently completed work on the upcoming feature film "Pretty Persuasion," has been married to production designer Sherman Williams since 1995. They have two children, Sophia (Eva Pietra, 3, and Dante Amadeo, born in January).

Billie returns with new actress

Julie Pinson

By Paulette Cohn
© Zap2it

Billie Reed is back on "Days of our Lives" and, in her third incarnation, Julie Pinson is playing the feisty femme. Pinson originally auditioned for the part in 1996, but lost out to Krista Allen. Shortly thereafter, she landed the role of Eve on "Port Charles," and put Billie in the past until now.

"I never thought about how Lisa (Pinna) or Krista played it. I had to come in and do it the Julie way," she says, but she does compare the two characters. "Both Billie and Eve are very strong, driven women with sketchy pasts, and they have both gotten into trouble."

As a result, Billie often needed to be rescued. But this time out, she has ISA training, so she is more "Lara Croft: Tomb Raider" than damsel in distress.

"I love, love, love the fact that I get to carry weapons around the island and beat up bad guys," Pinson admits. "Billie is a spy, so she is tough and smart and gets to do stunts."

And that isn't the only action that Pinson is seeing. She has already filmed her first love scene (a flashback) with Peter Reckell (Bo).

"It is the reason I am doing what I do!" she shares. "It is the best part of my job. I can't believe that people actually give me money to come in and be in bed with Peter Reckell and kiss him. I am boy-crazy, anyway, so it is fun."

In other daytime casting news, Doug Hutchison joined the cast of "Guiding Light" on Sept. 29 in the new role of Sebastian, a mysterious stranger who comes to Springfield to deliver a message from missing villain Roger Thorpe.

Dear Paulette: On "Passions," what has happened to Beth, her mom, the baby and the orangutan? They haven't been on for several months. —Vicky, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Dear Reader: Unfortunately, your favorite story line appears to be on the back burner. But according to a "Passions" spokesperson, Precious the orangutan and friends will return on Nov. 22, Dec. 8 and 9.

Family Best Bets

Sunday

7 p.m. on HALL

Movie: Alice in Wonderland

It's a match made in Wonderland: the special-effects wizardry of Robert Halmi Sr. and Jr.; the expert puppetry of Jim Henson's Creature Shop; and the surreal whimsy of Lewis Carroll. Tina Majorino stars as the curious girl who falls down a hole, where she meets the manic Mad Hatter (Martin Short), the soupy Mock Turtle (Gene Wilder), and the evil Queen of Hearts (Miranda Richardson). This 1999 production also stars Whoopi Goldberg, Ben Kingsley and Peter Ustinov.

Monday

4:30 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Mr. Holland's Opus

Richard Dreyfuss shines in this heartwarming, tear-jerking 1995 drama as an aspiring composer who takes a "temporary" job as a high-school music teacher to make ends meet. Many years and many heartaches later, it becomes clear that his greatest masterpiece is not a work of music, but the hundreds of young lives he's changed. Glenn Close, Olympia Dukakis and Alicia Witt also star.

7 p.m. on FAM

Movie: Au Pair

This 1998 comedy-drama may be best described as "Cinderella" meets "The Sound of Music." A college-educated woman (Heidi Noelle Lenhart) accepts a job for a wealthy and high-powered man (Gregory Harrison) without realizing it entails supervising his two unruly children. While winning over the youngsters, she must also contend with her employer's conniving girlfriend (Jane Sibbett). John Rhys-Davies also stars.

Tuesday

11:30 a.m. on HBO

Movie: Searching for Bobby Fischer

An impressive cast highlights this surprisingly involving and touching 1993 story of a 7-year-old chess prodigy (Max Pomeranc) caught between the fierce competition of championship chess and the moral compass of being human. Joe Mantegna plays his father, who is astounded by his son's ability, and Joan Allen plays his mother, who wants him to have a normal childhood. Laurence Fishburne and Ben Kingsley also star.

Wednesday

7 p.m. on FAM

Movie: A Little Princess

Based on a novel by Frances Hodgson Burnett ("The Secret Garden"), this critically acclaimed 1995 film will hopefully garner a wider audience than the select few who previously enjoyed it in theaters. Liesel Matthews stars as Sara Crewe, a 10-year-old whose fanciful imagination captivates her fellow classmates at an oppressive girls school in 1914 New York. Eleanor Bron co-stars as Miss Minchin, the school's harsh headmistress.

Thursday

8 p.m. on HALL

Movie: Murder on the Orient Express

Albert Finney earned an Oscar nomination for his portrayal of detective Hercule Poirot in this 1974 adaptation of Agatha Christie's novel. While traveling on the Orient Express after a difficult case, Poirot is engulfed in another murder mystery. Ingrid Bergman won a best supporting actress Oscar for her role in this film, which also features performances by Laurence Olivier, Sean Connery, John Gielgud, Jacqueline Bisset, Anthony Perkins and Vanessa Redgrave.

TV Trivia

Hattie McDaniel ("Saratoga") was a blues singer and the first black woman to perform on the radio. She also toured as Queenie in "Show Boat."

Martin Landau ("City Hall") was a cartoonist with the New York Daily News before pursuing an acting career.

Jackie Chan ("The Protector") studied at the Chinese Opera Research Institute as a child, then trained for the Peking Opera.

Robert Guillaume ("Lean on Me") won an Emmy for his performance as servant Benson in the comedy series "Soap."

Richard Crenna ("Wait Until Dark") earned an English degree at the University of Southern California.

Sea Coast Echo

October 31 - November 6, 2004

Sunday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

Cold Case

Lilly (Kathryn Morris) delves into the 1991 murders of two Cambodian immigrants in the new episode "Who's Your Daddy?" A teenager's gold bracelet prompts the new inquiry, which determines that the slain couple tried to conceal their true identities in order to remain in the United States. Lilly tries to figure out who they actually were.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Charmes

Paige (Rose McGowan) helps Agent Brody (guest star Kerr Smith) investigate a series of strange accidents in the new episode "Someone to Watch Over Me." They discover that Guardian

Kathryn

Angels are being held captive and used for protection by the sinister Serpedon (guest star Neil Hopkins). He targets Piper and Phoebe (Holly Marie Combs, Alyssa Milano) and actually kills them; only Leo (Brian Krause) can restore their lives through self-sacrifice.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

American Dream

Meg (Brittany Snow) disrupts her parents' (Gail O'Grady, Tom Verica) 20th wedding anniversary by getting suspended from school for her anti-war activity in the new episode "Clear and Present Danger". The celebration also is upset by the news that JJ (Will Estes) is missing in action in Vietnam. Roxanne and Luke (Vanessa Lengies, guest star Jamie Elman) start living together. The music group Phantom Planet portrays the Zombies.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Desperate Housewives

The neighborhood's residents are worried in the aftermath of a break-in in the new episode "Come In, Stranger." Bothered by Mike's (James Denton) supposed lack of interest, Susan (Teri Hatcher) goes on a date with a police officer (guest star Steven Eckholdt).

Bree (Marcia Cross) gets close to young Zach (Cody Kasch). Gabrielle (Eva Longoria) worries when Carlos' (Ricardo Antonio Chavira) mother (guest star Lupe Ontiveros) visits.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Movie: The Madam's Family: The Truth

About Canal Street Brothel

It's all in the family for the women who run a New Orleans bordello in this new drama movie, based on a true story. Oscar winner Ellen Burstyn plays the clan matriarch, who works as a receptionist for her daughter (Annabella Sciorra) — whose own daughter (Dominique Swain, "Lolita") is one of the prostitutes. When an arrested client gives them up to the FBI, they must decide whether to reveal their whole clientele.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Criminal Intent

Learning that the bodies of slain, homeless men have been sold for medical experimentation, Gorafi and Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) seek clues among residents of abandoned subway tunnels in the new episode "In the Dark." A common link among the victims: new credit cards that were used to their

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Crossing Jordan

New attacks by a long-absent serial killer puts Woody (Jerry O'Connell) on the case in the new episode "Bad Moon Rising." After the prime suspect (guest star Reed Diamond, "Homicide: Life on the Street") gets away, Jordan (Jill Hennessy) determines one of the murderer's victims is still alive, sending Woody on a race against time to find the criminal — and the surviving target.

9:01 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Boston Legal

Lori and Sally (Monica Potter, Lake Bell) defend a man (guest star Fred Koehler) against murder charges after he punches another man in the throat in the new episode "An Eye for an Eye." Shore and Tara (James Spader, Rhona Mitra) try to put their personal feelings for each other aside while representing a hypochondriac (Larry Clarke) who is suing his doctor for malpractice. David Clennon ("thirtysomething") also guest stars.

Tuesday Best Bets

6 p.m. and 13-ABC
Vote 2004

A big day for the United States is capped by a big night for many TV networks as election results are tabulated and reported. Peter Jennings anchors ABC's coverage, sure to include analysis of the way the voting went and why — with special attention paid to the so-called "swing" states — and the candidates' acceptance or concession speeches if the outcome is determined before the end of the evening.

7 p.m. on 38-WB
Gilmore Girls

Rory's (Alexis Bledel) excitement over attending a meeting of Logan's (Matt Czuchy) secret organization turns to fear when she gets involved in a potentially harmful stunt in the new episode "You Jump, I Jump, Jack." Emily and Richard (Kelly Bishop, Edward Herrmann) vie for Luke's (Scott Patterson) attention when they learn he is dating Lorelai (Lauren Graham).

7 p.m. on 54-UPN
Kevin Hill

While defending a hockey player who lost his job after assaulting an abusive fan, Kevin and Veronica (Taye Diggs, Kate Levering) are stunned when he suddenly cops to the charges against him in the new episode "Gods and Monsters." Dame (Jon Seda) gets a job promotion that unsettles Kevin, who gets George (Patrick Green) as a temporary roommate. Dylan Neal ("Dawson's Creek") guest stars.

7 p.m. on AMC
Movie: The Godfather

Director Francis Ford Coppola's Academy Award-winning 1972 drama stars Marlon Brando as Don Vito Corleone, the head of a powerful New York Mafia family. When an attempt is made on Don Vito's life, son Michael (Al Pacino) steps into his father's shoes. Adapted from Mario Puzo's novel, the movie also stars James Caan, Robert Duvall, Diane Keaton and Talia Shire.

7 p.m. on TNT
NBA Basketball

Richard Hamilton, and the world champion Detroit Pistons make the first of nine appearances on TNT's regular season slate of 52 NBA games, opening their title defense against Tracy McGrady, Yao Ming and the retooled Houston Rockets. The doubleheader's second game features the first glimpse at Kobe Bryant going solo with the new-look L.A. Lakers. Visiting them is a team on the rise in the West — Carmelo Anthony, Kenyon Martin and the Denver Nuggets.

8 p.m. on 38-WB
One Tree Hill

Everyone turns out for the grand opening of Karen's (Moriah Kelly) club in the new episode "Let the Reigns Go Loose." The featured act (guest star Tyler Hilton) balls out at the last minute, making Haley (Bethany Joy Lenz) a possible savior. Lucas and Felix (Chad Michael Murray, Michael Copon) square off over Anna (Daniella Alonso). Dan (Paul Johansson) tells Karen about Keith and Deb (Craig Sheffer, Barbara Alyn Woods).

8 p.m. on 19-PBS
Killmanjaro, A Naked Planet Special

At nearly 20,000 feet, Tanzania's Killmanjaro is the highest mountain in Africa. This "Naked Planet Special" explores the history of this geological wonder, actually a volcano complete with craters and glaciers. The massive natural structure's diverse terrain ranges from tropical rain forests to arctic conditions. One thing that appears certain: It's never boring around the mountain, which may explain the booming tourism.

8 p.m. on 54-UPN
Veronica Mars

On Election Day in the United States, voting concerns also affect Veronica (Kristen Bell) and her school in the new episode "The Return of Kane." Duncan (Teddy Dunn) is elected student council president over a popular rival who vowed to make things more equitable between the "haves" and the "have-nots," prompting suspicion of fraud. Real-life spouses Harry Hamlin and Lisa Rinna guest star as Logan's (Jason Doherty) movie-star parents.

October 31 - November 6, 2004

Wednesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Lost

Locke (Terry O'Quinn) has an ulterior motive for helping Charlie (Dominic Monaghan) overcome his drug problem in the new episode "The Moth." Jack (Matthew Fox) is buried alive when a cave collapses. Sayid, Kate, and Boone (Naveen Andrews) and Evangeline Lilly, Ian Somerhalder) face possible opposition in trying to trace the French transmission.

Terry O'Quinn

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

LAX

A federal witness against a drug dealer bolts from her scheduled flight before it departs in the new episode "Pictures to Prove It," prompting a lockdown of the airport so Harley and Roger (Heather Locklear, Blair Underwood) can find her before her would-be killers succeed. Catlin (guest star Sasha Barrese) tries to help an intended bride whose wedding dress is wrecked in a baggage-handling accident.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

The King of Queens

Carrie's (Leah Remini) enthusiasm for her new job as a team leader — which even has her willing to work on Saturdays — makes Doug (Kevin James) jealous of her in the new episode "Dugan Groupie." He seeks a promotion of his own and lands a position he's ill-prepared for. Arthur (Jerry Stiller) thinks Doug and Carrie lead a different life when he isn't present.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

Jack & Bobby

In the aftermath of his romance with Dex (guest star Jeanette Brox), Bobby (Logan Lerman) vows revenge against Jack (Matt Long) for his role in the breakup in the new episode "Election Night." Missy and Courtney (Keri Lynn Pratt, Jessica Pare) also are impacted. Grace (Christine Lahti) indulges in marijuana on the night of the campus election, causing grief for her sons as well as for her.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

The West Wing

Using Josh and Toby (Bradley Whitford, Richard Schiff) as his emissaries, President Bartlet (Martin Sheen) seeks congressional and United Nations backing for the peace accord he's proposed for the Middle East in the new episode "Third-Day Story." Donna (Janel Moloney) comes back to work. Charlie (Dile Hill) doesn't want to take a certain college exam.

8 p.m. on 54-UPN

Kevin Hill

Just when a female client's sexual-harassment suit against her former employer seems to be going downhill, Kevin (Taye Diggs) finds a vital piece of evidence that could turn the case in her favor in the new episode "Snack Daddy." Kevin considers dating a single parent in the "Mommy & Me" class he attends with baby Sarah. Meredith Monroe ("Dawson's Creek") guest stars.

8:30 p.m. on 4-CBS

Center of the Universe

Tommy (Diedrich Bader) is the only member of the family who wants to go to a party given by Lily's (Melinda McGraw) ex-husband (guest star Sean O'Bryan) — who intends to introduce his new girlfriend to everyone — in the new episode "The Lake House." John (John Goodman) doesn't want to intervene, so his other relatives devise their own remedy to the situation.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

CSI: NY

A member of an underground-construction team dies 700 feet below street level in the new episode "A Man a Mile." An explosion is thought to be the cause at first, but when an empty inhaler is found at the site, Mac (Gary Sinise) suspects the victim's demise was intentional. Stella and Aiden (Melina Kanakaredes, Vanessa Ferlito) probe a teenager's strangulation death. Terry Kinney guest stars.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order

After a ferry crashes into a dock, a woman is found dead — but apparently for another reason — in the episode "The Dead Wives Club." She was seen in the water before the collision, and Fontana and Green's (Dennis Farina, Jesse L. Martin) probe leads them to a firefighter's ex-wife, whose husband left her to wed the wealthy widow of a Sept. 11 victim. McCoy (Sam Waterston) then faces handling a complicated prosecution.

Thursday Best Bets

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Life as we know it

Ms. Young (Marguerite Moreau) breaks up, then makes up, with Ben (Jon Foster) — to the astonishment of observer Jonathan (Chris Lowell) — in the new episode "Secrets and Lies." Dino (Sean Faris) tells Michael (D.B. Sweeney) he wants to move. Jackie (Missy Peregrym) takes steps to cope with her father's drinking.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

The Apprentice

Even if someone has been "fired" by Donald Trump from this series, there's always the chance he or she might return ... and four ex-candidates are back in the new episode "Bringing Down the House." Their stated mission is to help the remaining players give Long Island, N.Y., homes: extreme makeovers; however, you also can count on them having grudges they intend to settle.

8:59 p.m. on 6-NBC

ER

Neela (Parminder Nagra) is back on the hospital staff, but is set up by Dr. Pratt (Mekhi Phifer) to compete with fellow interns Abby and Ray (Maura Tierney, Shane West), in the new episode "An Intern's Guide to the Galaxy." They vie to process the most patients, but Ray's zeal leads to an organ-donation error.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

Without a Trace

A single mother (guest star Audrey Marie) vanishes after leaving her 3-year-old son with a baby sitter in Part 1 of the new episode "Nickel and Dimed." The woman's secretive past makes her an enigma at first to Jack (Anthony LaPaglia) and his team, but as pieces fall into place, they learn she came into a sudden windfall and had doubts about her employer — so foul play is a possibility.

Friday Best Bets

8 Simple Rules

Bridget (Kaley Cuoco) falls for the coach (guest star Dan Cortese, "Veronica's Closet") of her school's tennis team — only to learn that his eye is on Cate (Kaley Sagal) — in the new episode "Coach." Kerry and Rory (Amy Davidson, Martin Spanjers) begin to suspect Jim (James Garner) has been less than honest about his role in the many war stories he's told them.

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

Joan of Arcadia

Joan (Amber Tamblyn) is shocked to see Adam and Judith (Christopher Marquette, Sprague Grayden) getting much closer than she expected in the new episode "P.O.V." Helen (Mary Steenburgen) disagrees with Will and Kevin's (Joe Mantegna, Jason Ritter) choice of attorney (guest star Evan Handler, "Sex and the City") to defend the family.

in a lawsuit. Helen arranges a reunion with her college boyfriend.

Complete Savages

Kaley Cuoco ("8 Simple Rules") guest stars as a potential new love for Sam (Andrew Eiden), whose girlfriend ditched him for someone else, in the new episode "For Whom the Cell Tolls." Sam's interest in the new girl wanes as he becomes aware of how connected to her cell phone she is. (Erik von Detten) gets a job as a roving salesman at the mall.

Hope &amp; Faith

Hope and Faith (Faith Ford, Kelly Ripa) are only too happy to make a love match between their father and their gynecologist (guest stars Robert Wagner and Jaclyn Smith) in the new episode "Natal: Attraction." All goes well until Jack's recent one-night stand (guest star Jenny McCarthy) resurfaces... with the news that she's pregnant with Jack's child.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

JAG

Harm and Mac (David James Elliott, Catherine Bell) are sent by their new boss (David Andrews) to Baghdad, where they take part in a sergeant's court martial, in the new episode "This Just in From Baghdad." The officer is accused of involuntary manslaughter in the death of a defense advisor (guest star Stephen Markle) who may have pushed enlistees too far. William Russ ("Boy Meets World") also guest stars.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Third Watch

Cruz (Tia Texada) is sent to jail by Internal Affairs investigators in the new episode "Leap of Faith." Captain Finney (guest star Charles Hall, "Hill Street Blues") seeks evidence against her from Yokas (Molly Price), who knows the truth about a shooting Cruz is suspected of. Sully (Skipp Sudduth) discloses more about his grudge against Finney and Finney's rookie cop son (Josh Stewart).

8 p.m. and TBS

Movie: The Haunting

A classic horror tale is retold in this 1999 update. Liam Neeson plays a parapsychologist who leads an expedition into a foreboding house that seems to take on a life of its own. Director Jan de Bont makes the eerie, highly functional set as much a star of the film as any of the actors, who also include Catherine Zeta-Jones, Owen Wilson and Lili Taylor.

dr. vegas

When his favorite rock star (guest star Michael Cerveris) arrives at the Metro, Billy's (Rob Lowe) excitement turns to worry over the hard-living musician's health in the new episode "Lust for Life." Tommy (Joe Pantolano) invests in a planned movie, while one of his associates (guest star Chazz Palminter) is saddled with minding the son (guest star Daryl Sabara, "Spy Kids") of the film's producer (guest star Saul Rubinek).

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Medical Investigation

A virus wipes out one-tenth of a West Virginia town's population in the new episode "Mutation." The carcass of a dead animal may be the source of the illness, and Dr. Connor and Dr. Durant (Neal McDonough, Kelli Williams) exhaust all the possible explanations — some of which can only be found underground.

In Focus

Any series that lasts 8,000 episodes deserves something special on the milestone occasion - and "The Young and the Restless" gets it as former cast member Sherry Moore returns to the CBS daytime serial Monday, Nov. 1. He reprises the part of the supposedly deceased Malcolm Winters, who stuns a lot of people when he suddenly resurfaces in Genoa City. Among the most shocked are his wife (Victoria Rowell), his ex-wife (Tonya Lee Williams) and his brother (Kristoff St. John).

Saturday Best Bets

The Thorn Birds

Based on the Colleen McCullough novel, the 1983 drama stars Richard Chamberlain as Father Ralph de Bricassart, an ambitious clergyman whose professional aims are side-tracked by his devotion to Meggie Cleary (Rachel Ward), the niece of his wealthy and amorous benefactor (Barbara Stanwyck). Bryan Brown, Richard Kiley and Jean Simmons also star in the saga, shown in its four-part entirety here.

Movie: The Rookie

A high-school coach (Dennis Quaid) who gave up his baseball dream enters into a life-altering bargain with his young players. They agree to work as hard as possible — and if they make it to the playoffs, the coach will have to try out for the majors. Rachel Griffiths ("Six Feet Under"), Beth Grant, Brian Cox and Jay Hernandez co-star in this inspiring, Disney-produced 2002 family film based on a true story.

Movie: Cheaper by the Dozen

Contemporized big-time from the classic book and movie, this pleasing 2003 remake casts Steve Martin as a college-football coach and patriarch of a brood that includes 12 children. They relocate, then Mom (Bonnie Hunt) takes off on a tour to promote a book she's written — leaving the kids largely in charge of the house. The young co-stars include Hilary Duff, Tom Welling ("Smallville") and Piper Perabo ("Coyote Ugly").

7 p.m. on TMC

Movie: Evelyn

In a major departure from his James Bond image, Pierce Brosnan

— also a producer here — stars in the affecting, fact-inspired 2002 story of an Irishman determined to regain custody of his children after his wife leaves him. Desmond Doyle (Brosnan) takes his early-1950s battle all the way to the Supreme Court of Ireland. Director Bruce Beresford's fine cast also includes Aidan Quinn, Julianna Margulies and Stephen Rea.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

CSI: Miami

Horatio (David Caruso) and his team get little help from a rap star (guest star Xzibit) after a security guard is killed at one of his concerts in "Rap Sheet." One of the artist's bodyguards may have been the actual target. Alexx (Khandi Alexander) is astonished when a supposedly deceased car accident victim springs to life in the morgue. Randall Batinkoff ("For Keeps") also guest stars.
